U.N. Reports Gains Made In Katanga

U.S. Transports Resume Flying Of Men, Equipment

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — U. S. transports resumed flying hundreds of men and fighting equipment to a growing U. N. army as mortar blasts and sniper fire continued to rip the outskirts of this capital of secession Friday.

Brian Urquhart, U.N. political adviser, reported to his New York headquarters that Swedish, Irish and Indian troops were making good progress in "cleaning up the outskirts" of the city and had eliminated all Katanga roadblocks.

TWO STRONGHOLDS

Inside the city, however, the Katangans still held several small and two main military strongholds—President Moise Tshombe's palace and the Lido Hotel, which was given up as a rest center by the United Nations on the first day of the fighting Tuesday.

So far the U.N. forces have made no effort to penetrate the center of the city.

The heaviest combat has been in the area of U.N. headquarters, about eight blocks from the center of the city; a traffic circle on the road to the U.N. airport seven miles outside; and an underpass linking the downtown area with the northern suburbs.

But incidents involving bystanders caught in the middle of the second little war between the United Nations and Katanga grew, and Tshombe angrily charged that "cowardly and decadent" Americans were bombing churches, hospitals and schools and killing women and children.

He attributed the deaths of seven civilians to American bombs. No American aircraft have been engaged in combat missions, however.

On the other side of the coin, 200 Congolese students in the central Congo capital at Leopoldville shouted "Vive Kennedy" in a pro-American demonstration after they had showered bricks at the British, French and Portuguese embassies. They battered automobiles, tore down embassy insignia and shouted anti-Tshombe jeers at the British, French and Portuguese embassies.

The Prince Leopold Hospital for Africans here was badly damaged by a shower of 50 mortar shells which doctors and nurses said came from Swedish and Irish camps. None of the 700 patients was seriously wounded. U.N. officials said mortar fire had been directed at Camp Tshombe, 800 yards from the hospital.

Caracas Riots Against JFK's Visit Continue

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Violence erupted again Friday in Caracas a few hours after police broke up a leftist demonstration against President Kennedy's visit next week. Leaflets calling for demonstrations against the President on his arrival were passed around in the streets.

Authorities said three unidentified men killed a policeman and wounded another, apparently in a terrorist campaign. Three other unidentified men tried to set fire to a gasoline station.

Several persons were hurt and more than 20 antigovernment demonstrators were arrested in Thursday night's disorder. The leftists began the distribution of the leaflets urging the public to join in demonstrations against the U.S. President when he arrives Dec. 16.

The leaflets, unsigned but printed in the same type used for Communist party pamphlets here, said, "Caracas cannot receive Kennedy peacefully. Caracas must receive Kennedy as it received Nixon." Vice President Richard M. Nixon was stoned on a visit here some time ago.

The pamphlets also urged painting of walls with signs saying "Kennedy No," strewing streets with tacks, and hanging black crepe.

Heavy Snow Hits Travel In Northeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy snow burdened sections of the Northeast Friday, shutting schools and slowing travel in some areas.

Up to two feet of snow carpeted the land near Lakes Erie and Ontario in New York State. Many traffic accidents occurred.

New York State Police reported roads were open but in poor condition. Plows were trying to keep up with the snow in the Syracuse region.

Interstate 81 was blocked for a while by jackknifed trucks, but was cleared later.

Brisk westerly winds carried snow into Chautauqua, Cattaraugus and southern Erie counties, but Buffalo and New York City escaped the storm.

U.S. Indicts Cuban News Wire Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prensa Latina, Cuba news wire service, and its chief American correspondent were indicted by a federal grand jury here Friday on charges of failing to register as agents of a foreign power.

The correspondent, Francisco V. Portela, 53, born in Havana but a naturalized American citizen, was arrested at his office in New York City.

The indictment named the agency on one count charging failure to register, and Portela on two counts charging failure to have the agency registered and failing to register himself.

Prensa Latina has about 20 employes at its New York headquarters, employs a Washington correspondent, and began operating in this country about June 1959, the Justice Department said.

The grand jury said the agency had been subsidized and directed by the government of Cuba and its officials. Specifically named among the officials were Prime Minister Fidel Castro and Ernesto Guevara, Cuban minister of industries.

The jury said the purpose of the agency's operations in this country was to gather and disseminate news of Cuba and world affairs "in accordance with the views of, and in a light favorable to," the Cuban government.

Cloudy, Warm Expected Today

The weather is expected to be partly cloudy today but with warmer temperatures.

The low expected early this morning is between 48 and 56 degrees and the high temperature is predicted to reach between 64 and 76 degrees.

Rain fell most of the day and up into the night yesterday as the temperatures fell. Until 6 p.m. Friday the Federal Aviation Agency at Selman Field recorded the rainfall at .17 inches.

The high temperature was recorded by the FAA at 48 degrees and the low was recorded at 40 degrees.

Tigers Take Lee By 7-0 Margin

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Left halfback Gary Papas intercepted a Joe Mooch pass in the third quarter and raced 43 yards to score and give Neville the class AA state championship on a 7-0 win over Lee High of Baton Rouge before some 6,000 fans at Brown Stadium here last night.

The 138-pound sophomore drifted back from his inside linebackers position, jumped up to snare the toss, then tore down the right side of the field behind a cordon of blockers to score untouched with 6:40 left to play in the period.

Don Brant, a fabulous little halfback, swivel-hipped his way through the Lee defense for the extra point and the Tigers of Coach Bill Ruple had their second state crown in three years.

12TH IN ROW

It was also their 12th straight victory and the second undefeated Neville ball club in three years.

The play was obviously the key to the entire night's work for Neville and was an ironic turn of fate for Mooch, a dazzling quarterback who had completed 61

Many Saved By Rescuers In Hartford

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Fire whipped through the ninth floor of the Hartford Hospital for 45 minutes Friday and killed 15 patients and medical aides.

Scores of other persons were trapped in their rooms until rescue workers fought through the billowing smoke and fire and carried them downstairs in their arms.

TAKEN TO SAFETY

Many of the patients were seriously ill. Some were taken to safety with plasma bottles still attached to their arms.

Some, well enough to walk, stood at their windows and cried for help to firemen far below. When firemen got their ladders up, most reached only to the eighth floor.

In all, 793 patients were in the hospital when the fire erupted at 2:44 p.m. A hospital spokesman said the blaze started in a trash chute, perhaps from a cigarette butt.

Flames burst from a chute on the ninth floor and raced along a corridor. Heavy smoke gushed through the upper floors of the $10-million, 13-story wing of the hospital. The wing is only 13 years old and was regarded as fireproof.

Rescue workers evacuated the 108 patients on that floor. Then, as the heat buckled ceilings and floors, they moved out patients on the floor below. Later, a morgue was set up there.

As the patients were taken downstairs, many continued to rest in the arms of hospital aides. There were no beds for them. They were moved later to other hospitals in Hartford.

Andrew Agogliati, 53, of Framingham, Mass., a heart patient, was in Room 919 with four other patients when a nurse closed the door.

Suddenly, he said, someone yelled: "Get the patients out!"

Then, he said, "I got out of bed although I'm not supposed to. I looked out the door and saw flame

Cade Is Granted New Trial In Anarchy Case

Judge Jesse S. Heard set aside Negro Muslim leader Troy Cade's conviction of criminal anarchy Friday in Fourth District Court, on grounds that evidence used during Cade's November 6-7 trial was seized illegally by Monroe police.

He granted the Muslim a new trial.

District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter indicated that Cade probably will not be tried again, since the main evidence against him, a signboard taken from the Temple of Islam, has been ruled illegal.

RELEASED ON BOND

Cade immediately was released from jail, after $10,000 cash bond was posted for him.

He was indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury last spring, on charges of criminal anarchy — advocating the overthrow of the governments of Louisiana and the United States by force and violence — and of desecration of the U. S. flag.

The Muslim organization calls for black supremacy.

Death Ray Weapon Work In Progress

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Scientists are developing a death ray weapon designed to turn anything it is focused on into a wisp of gaseous vapor, Dr. Carl L. Kober of the Martin Co. plant near Denver says.

The weapon would be partly nuclear-powered and accomplish its destructive work by throwing a fantastically hot beam on an object, Kober said Friday.

Kober said the weapon is conceived as a defensive arm for use by the U.S. Air Force in helping to police space in the future.

Prototypes of the weapon under development here will be able to produce a beam in excess of 100,000 degrees, he said. Temperatures of a million degrees are possible.

"The effects will be similar to a solar furnace, or a burning glass through which sunlight is concentrated on an object," the Austrian-born scientist said. "Whatever it is focused upon evaporates and becomes gas."

Its intricacy and cost would make it uneconomical for use in terrestrial warfare, Kober said.

"The X-weapon is closely connected with the future role of the Air Force to police and govern space near the earth," he said.

"It will have problems like satellite inspection and anti-intercontinental ballistic missile control, but there will also have to be a sort of traffic cop in space to maintain law and order and to rescue those in trouble.

"This is the foreseeable role of the Air Force—and it must be armed with a space weapon."

The weapon is expected to be in the testing stage by at least 1963, he said.

Duty Nurse Tells Of Escape In Fire

EDITOR'S NOTE—Lois Daly, 23, formerly of Stratford, Conn., is a duty nurse in unit C9L on the ninth floor of the Hartford Hospital. She was on duty Friday when fire broke out on the ninth floor and took 15 lives before it was brought under control. The following is her story of the fire as she saw it.

By LOIS DALY, R.N.

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — I was standing at the nurses' desk when the head nurse, Miss Spafford, turned and said "Look, smoke."

Immediately, she went down the right side of the corridor. I went down the left.

We closed windows and doors in the patients' rooms. By this time the patients knew there was a fire and yet not one screamed. They knew they had a job to do and, even if it was a passive one, they did it.

I remember hearing only one scream, later, and that was from a patient who was trapped in a corridor which was burning.

At the end of the hallway there were some visitors and hospital personnel. Then we heard explosions. I didn't dare look back. I dashed into Room 951.

There were 11 of us in the room. Four patients, the floor receptionist, a student nurse, Paula Bania, one other registered nurse, and three visitors.

By the time we closed the door the room was filled with smoke. We had to open windows in order to get some air because it was just black in there. We put wet towels over our noses and mouths

The road to Jerusalem always was busy at dawn. Sometimes Joseph had to wait until he could find room between parties going south. The road, it seemed, was always alive. The rich Greeks traveled south en route to Jerusalem to trade with the rich Jews. The northbound traffic came from Jerusalem and also from as far away as Egypt, and these merchants were laden with fabrics and metal objects and expensive spices.

On the evening of the fourth day they were at Jericho, a few miles above the Salt Sea and within glance of Mt. Nebo to the east. Joseph wanted to stay at an inn, where they could pay for space on the floor, but Mary begged him not to do it. "This is not an important day," she said. He knew what she meant.

In the morning, Joseph led Mary and the ass into the wilderness. It was twenty miles to Bethany, and, from there, three to the heart of Jerusalem. A man with strong legs could walk it, leading an animal and a woman, before sundown.

Towards sunset, Joseph stopped at the top of a rise. The ass stopped. Mary looked up, a tired child with eyes partly conscious of the scene.

"Jerusalem," Joseph said, pointing. Mary looked. The wonderment of what she saw caused her nausea to fade. She had heard her father describe this place when she was a little girl. A glance told her that the poor man did not know how to make anyone see Jerusalem. Joseph opened his mouth to speak, but what his eyes saw made his mind drunk and paralyzed his tongue.

It was a thing to see. Jerusalem was a white jewel pronged by the great stone wall around it. Joseph pulled the ass to the side of the road because the pilgrims behind him were shouting. "Jerusalem," he said again. He said it as though it were an earthly anteroom to paradise, as indeed it was.

The sun would be gone in ten minutes and there was much to see because they could not stay in Jerusalem. Their destination, Bethlehem, was still five miles to the south, but Joseph did not mind the night walk if he could stop a moment and drink in all of this and remember it when he was old.

His eyes, and Mary's too, moved in little darting glances, and they longed to exclaim to each other but there were no words. This was where God lived. They had been told many times by the elders that he did not live in the little synagogues around the country of Judea and far out in the diaspora. The synagogues were there to remind the Jews of God, to remind them of their duty never to live more than ninety days travel from the Great Temple of Jerusalem, never to fail, whenever possible, to go to Jerusalem for the Passover.

From the height, Joseph could look across the enclosed city and see Herod's palace on the far side, a little south of the place called Golgotha.

Softly, haltingly, Joseph found his voice and, as he drank in the exquisite and almost fearful beauty, he began to tell the story to his wife — a story she knew as well as he. He reminded her that he came of the family of David, even though his branch was small and poor. It was David's son Solomon who had built the Great Temple. He had commissioned Hirma, the King of Tyre, to draw the plans and do the engineering. The work was finished in seven years, a miracle of goodness. The temple was 1,000 feet long and 970 feet wide. The bigger the temple got, the more remote Solomon felt from God, and he needed the solace of women, so on the Mount of Offense to the left of the city he had built a palace and placed therein five hundred concubines.

The sin needed washing and, long after Solomon repented, the Jews split into two nations — Judea and Israel — and the Babylonians defeated them and reduced the walls of the temple. Now the Jews were the chattels of Roman emperors and the Caesars appointed Herod as king to rule the people.

Herold proclaimed himself a Jew and made daily sacrifices, but he was not even a good hypocrite. Joseph had heard the elders talk about in in Nazareth, and they averted their eyes when they recited his crimes. Herold bent his knee to Rome. He married Mariamne and, after she bore him two sons, he became piqued and had the three slain. He married ten times and he was so cruel that Caesar Augustus in Rome said that it was safer to be Herold's pig than Herod's son. This was a sacrilegious joke on the dietary laws, and Joseph did not like to repeat it.

Still he had also done good things for God. He had paid ten thousand workmen to repaid the temple and rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.

"Darkness is upon us," said Mary. She had a feeling of foreboding. She wanted to proceed to Bethlehem for no reason other than that she was trembling and the baby was unusually quiet. Joseph stopped in mid - speech. He knew that she would not interrupt him unless there was a reason. He asked if she desired to get down and have privacy. She said no and, without further conversation, he led the ass westward into the valley.

It was soon night and moonless. Something happened suddenly to Mary and she knew in a moment that this would be the night of the baby. She asked Joseph to stop and he became alarmed and asked if she was unquiet. "No," she said. "I feel no pain, but we must find an inn. The baby — with God's help — will be born tonight."

Joseph was frightened. He knew nothing of these things.

The thinking Mary did about the events leading to this night was a kaleidoscope of happy and mysterious supernatural things. To have a first baby is, in itself, a towering, wordless joy. To give birth to a first -born who is God and the Son of God and the Second Persons of the Holy Trinity is, at age fifteen or any greater age, a heavier responsibility than any other person ever bore, an enormity of weight which could be maintained only by one too young to appreciate it.

have been received. Many hundreds more are expected.

At the rate contributions are going, the Goodfellows Fund will have about $2300 on Christmas Eve. This is about one-third of what is needed.

Goodfellows are composed of the persons who donate money, food and clothing and those who investigate requests. It's a voluntary project. No one is paid anything. There is no extra supply of money to dip into, if the Ouachita Parish residents fail to contribute enough.

Any contribution may be sent to Goodfellows Fund, care of the News-Star—World, Monroe.

Here is an example of the requests to the fund:

"I'm writing for my four children. They are 12, 10, four and two years of age. I would like to have a little help for Christmas. I'm a widow. We are not asking for toys, just something to cook will be fine, or clothes. They are all boys and need jeans or any clothing."

Another mother writes, "I am in need. My husband has not been able to work for seven years, and I have been down sick four months now.

"I have a one-month-old new baby boy and I am still ill. I can't work but a little while at a time. My husband gets a check but I support nine children, including five in school.

"My children need shoes and clothes very bad. We need fruit and clothes and milk very bad."

A teenager writes: "I am 14 years old. My mother is on the welfare. I have six other brothers and one sister. She just barely get enough to get by on. If you all could help us we sure would be thankful.

"My baby brother has asthma attacks. My older brother has rheumatic fever and heart trouble. Everything extra we can get goes for medicine for them."

a local housing project.

At first glance the space kitchen resembles ordinary home or restaurant equipment, but closer inspection reveals it to have some gimmicks that would puzzle the ordinary housewife.

For one thing, there is everything but a kitchen sink in this kitchen fitted for the care and feeding of three astronauts on a 14 - day journey through the cosmos.

For another, garbage can't be thrown away because, as the engineers explain, "outer space can't be turned into a dumping ground." Garbage instead is chemically treated against bacteria and stored in special containers for disposal upon return.

In conditions of complete weightlessness and one - half normal atmospheric pressure, water won't pour but must be taken through a straw after being drawn from a pump.

Instead of using dishes, and silverware, astronauts will take their meals right out of the can, which is squeezed by a special clamp to force the food through a nipple.

The space kitchen, occupying an area 10 feet long against one side of a space ship 7½ feet in diameter, has a special oven for heating the cans, a freezer and refrigerator, hot and cold water - 3.5 gallons per man - and special storage compartments for food in sealed containers.

and smoke. We shut the door and the visitors — two women and a man—threw blankets and sheets against the cracks along the door and along the floor so the smoke couldn't get through.

"We all opened the windows and the smoke went out. So we just stayed there and tried not to panic."

Everyone in his room was rescued, escaping down a darkened elevator, with hospital aides helping.

One nurse, Lois Daly, helped close windows and patients' doors even as she watched the flames and then, when she heard explosions, darted into a room with 10 others.

In the suffocating smoke, they put wet towels over their faces to filter the air and opened a window.

For a brief moment I thought this was curtains," she said. But then they grew calm and awaited rescue.

The fire was soon brought under control, but confusion surrounded the disaster for hours.

There were conflicting reports at first on the number of dead until the hospital placed the casualties at 15. Then hundreds of persons crowded around the hospital's information desk to get word on their relatives.

The hospital first said all of the 15 dead were patients. Later, fire officials said there were 13 patients, one intern and one nurse who died. Even then, they were uncertain.

Ambulances, National Guard trucks and department store vehicles were kept busy transferring patients to other hospitals. Some were sent home.

At last the hospital issued a statement that all surviving patients "are safe and in good condition." Then it began the grim business of notifying next of kin of the dead.

State and city officials immediately began an investigation.

It was started by Deputy State Fire Marshal Carroll E. Shaw. The first of the dead to be identified had been his niece, Diane Pape, 15.

board, which Monroe police seized at the Temple of Islam, 1243 DeSiard St., on March 5.

The seizure took place after Negroes inside the Temple attacked Police Chief James C. Kelly Jr. and other officers when the police knocked on the back door to be admitted.

The officers testified at Cade's trial that they defended themselves, subdued the Muslims, and then seized the signboard, which shows a U. S. flag, a cross, a Negro hanging from a tree and the words "Slavery, hell, death."

Next to this was a flag of Islam and the words "Freedom, justice, equality."

Muslim James E. Gaines, 12, Negro, testified at Cade's trial that the flag of Islam is the "black man's flag", said that he would rather live under the flag of Islam, and added that "Islam taught me" this.

Lassiter argued during Friday's 90 minute hearing that Cade was not entitled to a new trial. He said that the evidence used in Cade's trial was seized at the time of the Negro's arrest and therefore it was legal.

He also pointed out that the evidence was taken from a public place and that it was not in a private home.

After hearing arguments by both sides, Heard ruled that it was an illegal search and seizure since no search warrants were used, and that therefore the evidence could not be used in a trial.

The judge's decision was based on a a United States Supreme Court ruling of June 19, 1961, in the case of Mapp vs. Ohio.

In that case, police entered the private home of a Negro woman and searched the premises for evidence of policy rackets. During the search, they found pornographic literature and charged her with possession of it. The police had no warrant, but no violence was involved.

Cade's attorneys said Friday that the evidence was illegally seized at the Muslim Temple by city police and that it should not have been used in the trial, since it was not obtained with a search warrant.

They maintained that without the sign, Cade would not have been convicted.

Lassiter pointed out that the police felt that no search warrant was necessary, because the meeting was advertised as an open meeting.

The district attorney said that the police did not go to the Temple to make any arrests, and that only after they were attacked by the Muslims did they make any arrests.

Kelly testified at Cade's trial that he was given a handbill on the street, advertising the March 5 Muslim meeting, and that he went to the meeting believing it was open to the public, since the Muslims claim to be a religious group.

Earlier in the day, Judge Heard set March 23 as the date for eight of these Muslims to appeal their conviction in Monroe City Court, on charges of disburbing the peace and committing battery on the police.

They were found guilty by Judge W. Harper in City Court on April 4, and their attorneys immediately appealed the convictions.

The appeals from each of the Muslims will be consolidated into a single appeal case. Those appealing are:

Cade, 30, 3012 Bailey St.; his wife Luretha Cade, 21; Robert Douglas; 20, Church Street; Reacy Gaines, 44, 3310 Church St., Robert Mennyweather, 58, 3310 Gayton St.; Willie Ventley, 26, route 2; Nathan White, 22, 3012 Bailey St.; T. T. Lawson, 20, 3306 Church St.

so we could filter the smoke and breathe.

There was no chaos. No screaming. Everybody did very well. For a brief moment I thought this was curtains because we knew it was our section that was involved. We could see the flames in the center section from where we were.

Then we turned on the radio to hear what was happening. From the window we saw everything that was going on, all the ambulances and firemen. Everything looked so orderly that we knew everything would be okay.

We waited to leave the room. It took over an hour.

A few doctors came in and asked if everybody was okay. I gave one of the visitors oxygen.

Before I left the room, we remembered it was Paula's — the student nurse—birthday so we all sang, "Happy Birthday."

When I went into the corridor, it was loaded with all kinds of debris and water.

I was sent from room to room to help calm and evacuate patients.

All of us on the staff were doing the same thing. When we finished with one unit we went to another.

Everything worked like clockwork. Everybody seemed to know what to do and when to do it.

I feel kind of good knowing that all the patients that I was with on our ward are all okay.

Free Enjoy Christmas

As shoppers swarm the streets and stores of downtown Monroe and West Monroe and other towns throughout the Monroe area we are brought to the realization that the traditional holiday of the free world has again arrived. The contented feeling engendered by watching the happy faces of people hustling to participate in the utter pleasure of a joyous event, individually and in concert with their neighbors, is all pervading.

It is not amiss to reflect at this time on the half of the world which has nothing to celebrate. In the communist countries which profess not to believe in God there is no joy at Christmastime. There are official holidays behind the iron curtain, of course, but they are hardly the kind to bring smiles to the faces of the participants. An endless list of quota days, rarely celebrated now, is available for immediate promulgation by the local commissar and the Soviet Union has such national holidays as Victory day, Railway day and Mining day.

Even in the countries of captive thought, the idea of enjoying a day which represents nothing more than a bureaucrat's victory offers little to the creation of a festive occasion. This is something the overlords of the proletariat Utopias fail to comprehend.

In the United States, as in other free countries, the days we celebrate as local or national holidays began with a spontaneous desire by the people to honor a person, event or thing considered to be worthy of more than passing recognition. So great was the spontaneity of these celebrations, combined with their persistence over the years, that the government finally made them officials by legislative or executive recognition of the holiday.

Celebration by edict has no more lasting effect than the coercion used by the Red empire in work, politics or play. Workers can be enslaved for a time if the threat of force is strong enough. Politicians can change directions radically to coincide with the dictates of the moment if the alternative is exile or worse. People can hardly be forced to a convincing display of jubilation if their hearts are not in it.

That is one of the reasons holidays are so much more fun in the free nations. We not only have something worthwhile to celebrate but the sheer delight of being able to celebrate in the way we choose makes it all the more enjoyable. Added to that, at Christmastime, when we celebrate the birth of Christ, we find another joy that is deeper and more enduring.

Agriculture Growing Up

American agriculture and the agencies and forces combining to bring about its phenominal development are among the things of which the citizens of this country can be proudest. These things are the envy of the entire world. With many countries unable to produce enough food for themselves and with Russia and Red China lagging in agriculture, the United States is progressing at such a fantastic rate that the amount of food and fibers it can produce still seems unlimited.

New developments in agricultural engineering, some so revolutionary that only "seeing is believing," will be both visually and verbally presented at the 1961 winter meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers in Chicago this month.

Nearly 2,000 agricultural engineers and those in related fields from throughout the United States, Canada and several other countries will see experimental models, scale models, component parts, movies, slides, film strips, charts and diagrams and will hear 130 papers on power and machinery, electric power and processing, farm structures an dsoil and water conservation.

In store for the attending agricultural engineers are descriptions and in some cases demonstrations of such innovations as a new type of combustion engine; a model train driven entirely by fuel cell power; an Arcopter, which is a "combination helicopter, airplane, aermobile and car;" an Airtrack to replace the track on a crawler-type tractor; an aeroplow, which eliminates most friction in plowing, and other "futuristic" agricultural engineering developments.

When the farmers not only use flying dusters, but flying plows and flying automobiles we can really say that farming is growing up.

But the end is not in sight. By the time American astronauts reach the moon, farming may be well on the way to taking almost entirely to the air.

Lyndon And Adlai

Twice recently, members of President Kennedy's New Frontier team have spoken out against Russian tactics. That is something new—a departure from the ban in effect for several months prohibiting any criticism of the Soviet chief of state. Maybe the tide is turning, even among the New Frontiersmen.

First Adlai Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations, issued a statement in which he attacked Russia for the worst colonialism the world has ever known. To be sure, Stevenson wouldn't stand up before the United Nations and say those things but he did issue a paper—undoubtedly on orders of President Kennedy.

Now Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, whom Kennedy has tried mainly to keep out of his hair, has added his voice, also probably because Kennedy gave him the go-ahead signal, but much more willingly than the Stevenson pronunciamento.

Johnson, who had some of the elements of fundamental thinking, before it was stifled in the New Frontier atmosphere, was hurrying along through his speech at a dinner honoring Stevenson (perish the though).

He was talking about NATO and Western Europe and commented that "any Soviet attack on Europe would be a hazardous enterprise.

Four seats down, at the head of the table, there was the scraping of a chair. Russia's Valerian A. Zorin was rising in indignation. With his wife and some communist tag-alongs, he marched out of the hall in New York's Astor hotel, muttering about a disrespectful host. Johnson did not hesitate in his speech.

Zorin's surprise can be understood. He probably thought the ban against any criticism of Russia was still in effect and that no representative of the New Frontier would get up on his feet and issue what amounted to a defiance of Russian aggression.

What Johnson said was what Americans unafraid of Russia have been wanting to hear for a long time from an official source. In those words, he reflected the attitude of patriotic Americans and not those of some leftists who have higher regard for both communism and one-worldism than they do for the integrity and survival of the United States. He reflected, then, the attitude of the patriotic citizens of this country, who know their strength, know the rock-hard sinew that characterizes Western Europe today and know that fear is not on our side.

What Zorin thought is not really important. The important thing is that the administration finally has apparently decided that soft-soaping Russia is not the right thing to do.

ALLEN AND SCOTT

Freeman In Doghouse Role

Feed Grain Program Costs Too Much And He Offends Kennedy By Hitting Common Market Plan

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has competition as snafu champion of the cabinet.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman also is in the presidential doghouse.

This doesn't mean Freeman or Udall is in immediate danger of being "kicked upstairs" — as recently befell former Undersecretary of State Chester Bowles. It will happen sooner or later, but most likely later.

There are two principal reasons why Freeman, former Governor of Minnesota, is increasingly in dutch at the White House:

His feed grain program is costing a great deal more than he estimated; some experts claim as high as $5 a bushel for corn that wasn't produced. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon has told President Kennedy Agriculture Department expenditures will add at least $1.1 billion to this fiscal year's multi-billion dollar budget.

Freeman made some speeches that run directly counter to the Administration's favorable views toward the European common market. In an address to the National Grange, a major farm organization, he charged the common market could raise serious trade barriers to U. S. growers.

Warned Freeman, "Protectionism is in the air where agriculture is concerned in Europe today."

In White House circles, no secret was made of displeasure with this kind of dissonant talk from a cabinet member. It was felt that would encourage congressional opposition, particularly from Southern and Midwestern members, to the liberalized trade program the President plans to submit to the approaching legislative session.

Freeman apparently is aware he is in hot water.

He is telling friends, "They're unhappy at the White House about my feed grain program. But they haven't offered anything better, and neither has anyone else for that matter. There's a lot of criticism, but no really constructive alternatives."

In inner council deliberations on the new budget the President submits to Congress next month, Budget Director David Bell has sharply challenged Freeman's fund requests. Bell contends they are far too high and should be pared.

Significantly, the President has sided with Bell.

If and when Freeman does depart, his successor is likely to be Undersecretary Charles Murphy, one-time special counsel to President Truman. A North Carolinian and former Senate specalist on farm legislation, Murphy has influential personal ties in Congress that could be helpful to the Administration.

Freeman, with no Washington background, has lacked this important asset.

POLITICALS — Representative Hale Boggs, La., a senior member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, has the inside track for Democratic Whip if Representative Carl Albert, Okla., is elected the new Majority Leader. That's agreeable to Representative John McCormack, Mass., slated to be the next Speaker. Albert has the Majority Leadership sewed up despite claims of Representative Richard Bolling, Mo., that the race is still wide open. Albert has six sure votes from Bolling's own state delegation, foremost among them Representative Clarence Cannon, chairman of the mighty Appropriations Committee. Albert also has pledges from 13 of the 15 Democratic regional whips, and is confident he will get more than 183 votes. That's 53 more than necessary to win. . . . Although McCormack has the Speakership nailed down, Representative Albert Rains, Ala., is going to announce for it anyway, for two reasons: Belief the publicity will help him, as he has to run at-large for re-election next year, and to get himself on record for another try for Speaker in the future . . . Representative Wilbur Mills, Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, has offered to nominate McCormack for Speaker.

The huge new office building the House is erecting (the third) will be named after the late Speaker Sam Rayburn. Both Democratic and Republican leaders are agreed on that. Representative McCormack will offer a bipartisan bill for that purpose. It will also provide for a life-size statue of the noted Texas in the lobby of the new building that will be ready for occupancy in 1963 — when the Congress elected next year takes office . . . Senator Bourke Hickenlooper, Iowa, is being urged by some colleagues to make a fight for chairman of the Republican Policy Committee. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., has a seniority claim to this vacancy created by the death of Senator Styles Bridges, N. H. But some GOP senators feel Hickenlooper is more decisive and want him to run against Saltonstall. He hasn't agreed to that, but he also hasn't said no.

Governor Alf Landon's visit to the White House is his first since Truman left it in January 1953. The 1936 Republican presidential candidate avoided Washington throughout the eight years of the Eisenhower Administration because he wasn't asked to the White House. During Truman's regime, Landon had a standing invitation to call whenever he was in the capital. That's been renewed by President Kennedy. Now a hale and hearty 74, Landon attributes his good health and vitality to daily horseback rides. Says Landon, "If everyone my age rode horses instead of rocking chairs, they'd be a lot better off in both mind and body."

Careful Driver

Imagination Can Cause Motorist To Act To Avoid Accidents

A prime essential for a careful driver is to drive with imagination. It may make you moderately anxious when you are behind the wheel, but such thinking can save lives and prevent mutilation and crippling for life.

Let me explain. You will drive sanely if you imagine that a small child or an unthinking adult is liable to pop out into the street in front of the parked car you are about to pass. Be careful even when you get the green light, because the fellow in the other car who should stop because he has the right light is color blind. When you are in a hurry and begin to go over 50 and 60, just try to imagine what would happen if a tire blew.

I could go on and on. However, I think that what will bring you home safely is this: imagining that every other driver on the road is a moron—or drives like one. And, of course, others on the road have the right to think the same of you—until you prove otherwise.

Whether it's dieting or cutting down on smoking or anything else—it's not how you are doing in the morning hours or in the afternoon hours or in the evening that counts, but what it all adds up to in 24 hours.

The other day a friend who just can't seem to lose swore that he goes without breakfast and has only some broth for lunch. He can't seem to understand why he keeps gaining. The answer is that he puts away enough calories between his evening meal and midnight to add up to much more than he needs calorie-wise.

A young lady who has been smoking too much said to me one morning: "I'm cutting down. I've had only three cigarettes all day." (It was only 2 p. m.) Before a bridge game was over that night she had smoked more than a pack.

It's difficult, I know. But breaking a bad habit is a 24-hour-a-day job.

Many will be interested in a letter just received from The American Epilepsy Federation, 77 Reservoir Road, Quincy, Mass.

In part: "Specifically, the Federation is prepared to furnish pamphlets, statistical material and information relating to treatment centers, employment, education and insurance. The Federation offers these services to you personally, and to the people who seek information through your newspaper column, without charge."

How to ask for a consultation? Just simply ask for it. That's the best way. I suppose there are still some super-sensitive doctors who are hurt when their patient asks for another opinion. They think this evidences a lack of confidence in their ability. Not usually so.

Most good doctors are willing to call someone else for an additional opinion even though they believe nothing of import will be added. They realize that it's the patient's health and life that is at stake. And that when a family member becomes concerned ("wants to do everything possible so there will be no regrets") he has a right to do anything that will put his mind at ease. In such cases a consultation is far from silly.

You can't blame people from becoming impatient with their progress when they have such chronic conditions as heart disease, high blood pressure, ulcer of the stomach, etc. They want to get better fast. They can't understand why they have to put up with the shortness of breath, the dizziness or with the stomach pains so long.

I try to tell them that you can't easily repair in days or weeks what took years in coming. Human nature being what it is, such explanation brings little assurance and comfort. Nevertheless, nature—with our help—takes its good time to repair damaged tissues.

THE ALMANAC

By United Press International

Today is Saturday, Dec. 9, the 343rd day of the year with 22 to follow in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1907, Christmas seals were placed on sale in the Wilmington, Del., Post Office with the proceeds to be devoted to the campaign against tuberculosis.

In 1920, President Woodrow Wilson was awarded the 1919 Nobel Peace Prize.

In 1941, China declared war against Japan, Germany and Italy.

In 1950, Canada banned exports to Hong Kong, Communist China and Korea.

A thought for the day: American statesman Henry Clay said: "Government is a trust, and the officers of the government are trustees; and both the trust and the trustees are created for the benefit of the people."

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Castro Confirms

Cuban Dictator Makes It Clear He Is Marxist-Leninist Red

Fidel Castro has now made it clear beyond a doubt that he is a Marxist-Leninist, that is, a Communist of the breed of Soviet Russia. He says that he has been one of them for some time. Therefore, the defenders of Castro, as not being a Communist, are either ignorant or untruthful.

Castro said:

"I am a Marxist-Leninist and will be one until the day I die."

Thus we have his own statement of the case and the apologetics of Herbert Matthews of "The New York Times" proves to be false. Castro's confession also establishes beyond doubt that those officials of the State Department who are responsible for defending Castro and helping to put him in power were in error and that they ought to be dismissed summarily.

The significance of Castro's admission is not so much that he is a Communist which all informed persons knew to be so and to which Ambassadors Arthur Gardner and Earl E. T. Smith witnessed. Its significance and importance lie in the inadequate policy-forming in the State Department and the White House which is in too great a measure dependent upon the CIA which is supposed to supply correct and adequate information and never has.

Castro's admission that he is a Marxist-Leninist puts an end to the falsehoods which are being spread by various committees and organizations in favor of what is called a "free" Cuba. It raises again the question of the reestablishment of the Monroe Doctrine as a fundamental principle of American policy. If we are to intervene, as we are now doing in the Dominican Republic, let us, at any rate, intervene on the right side for a change.

American intervention in European, African, Asiatic and Latin American affairs during the recent decades has been based on the supposition that we are opposed to dictatorships but that we must tolerate dictatorships if they are Communistic because we are opposed to any form of conservatism and favor every form of "democracy" even if what is called democracy is the dictatorship of the proletariat as devised by Marx and Lenin. Thus in China, the United States intervened in favor of the Communist regime of Mao Tze-tung and against the pro-American regime of Chiang Kai-shek. Thus, in Korea, we prevented General Douglas MacArthur from putting an end to a Communist regime. Thus in French Indochina, we made it possible for Ho Chih-inh to establish a Communist state. Thus, we failed to resist the Soviet effort to establish Communist states out of the defeated powers of World War II, which we believed that we were rescuing from Nazi imperialism only to turn them over to Soviet imperialism.

Castro's confession warrants a reorganization of American policy personnel and a revision of American policy throughout the world. When a policy proves to be a failure, it need not be sustained by reactionary bigotry. Our Cuban policy has proved to be a failure and we ought to be ready to revise it.

Prior to the cancellation of the Monroe Doctrine, it was American policy that we did not intervene in the affairs of other countries, but that we also would not tolerate intervention by other countries when such intervention affeced our right. Not only was the Monroe Doctrine enunciated to this end, but the Open Door Policy regarding China was a similar statement of principle. Both were based on the fundamental concept of American foreign policy as enunciated by President George Washington in his "Farewell Address." This doctrine advocated the avoidance of intervention in the interest of safeguarding American integrity.

In a word, this policy of non-intervention and resistance to intervention by others on the American continents was fundamental American doctrine until Woodrow Wilson brought this country into World War I. Franklin D. Roosevelt chose to follow Woodrow Wilson rather than George Washington and intervened not only in European affairs but assumed the role of world leadership for which this country was not ready. Historic evidence established beyond doubt that the policy of non-intervention was sound and beneficial to the United States. We built a great country when we avoided interference in the affairs of others. The British intervened and spent three centuries losing their colonies. An excellent example of avoidance of European intervention was the resistance to the establishment of Maximilian's kingdom in Mexico.

SYLVIA PORTER

Stock Investors

26.2 Per Cent Of Shares Bought With Institutional Funds

Today, the New York Stock Exchange is disclosing in the 11th of its "portraits" of the stock market in nine years, that for the first time in history the institutional investor accounts for 26.2 per cent or more than one-quarter of the daily volume of trading in stocks listed on the Big Board.

This is an all-time high percentage and the fact surely will be reported in newspapers across the country, for it means that institutional investors — such as mutual funds, insurance companies, pension funds, foundations — have now become a truly dominant force in our securities markets. On the day this portrait was painted (Sept. 13) institutions bought and sold almost 2 million shares of stock on the Exchange alone, two and one-half times their daily average trading when the first study was made in September 1952.

Moreover, if the newspaper reporter assigned to the story digs a bit, he'll come across other studies emphasizing the already great and constantly growing role of the institutional investor.

For instance, the estimate is that of all common stocks outstanding, institutional investors own one-third, or well over $100 billion and they probably hold half of the total outstanding of the top-grade stocks included in the familiar Dow Jones averages. In the decade of the 1950s, pension fund holdings of stocks listed on the Big Board soared 2,060 per cent, investment company holdings jumped 500 per cent and the overall percentage increase for all institutional investors in the decade was 437 per cent.

Impressive as the unadorned statistics are — and they're impressive indeed when you realize that in 1929 institutional holdings of stocks were next to nothing and as recently as 1949, they still were picayune — what is their importance to you and me, individual buyers and sellers of stocks on our own?

The New York Stock Exchange doesn't go into this, of course, but there's no doubt that the development is of considerable significance. As an illustration . . .

(1) The institutional investor has become and is a key factor for stability in listed stocks with a bias for stability on the upside. While the thousands of institutions in the market are selling as well as buying every day, they're usually buying on balance, for millions of dollars in new cash are placed at their disposal each wek which they must and do invest.

Theoretically, institutions could decide to dump overnight and send prices into a devastating tailspin but they haven't done so to date and the informed judgment is that unless price relationships get crazily out of line, they won't.

(2) The institutional investor has been a particularly bullish force on prices of blue chip stocks, for here the holdings of many institutions are concentrated. Indicating their preference for high-grade stocks is the finding that in late 1960, the average price of shares bought and sold by institutions was $46 against an average price per share of total volume on the Exchange of $37.

(3) The institutional investor has given a strong investment tone to the listed markets. Managers of institutional portfolios are professionals, buying on the basis of the best information available for the long-term, and ignoring short-term price fluctuations.

(4) The institutional investor also has given the market a firm cash basis, for this type of investor buys only for cash.

As for the future, all the signs are insitution will become increasingly dominant in the stock market and those of us who aren't direct owners of stocks will be indirect owners through our stakes in pension funds, insurance companies, profit-sharing funds.

The "tycoon" of our era will may be not the wealthy individual but the manager of a pension fund or insurance company portfolio. We are just beginning to grasp the implications — financial, political and philosophical — of this huge new power in our markets.

Bible Thought

H. B. Dean

"For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behold . . ." Romans 16:19

Men who listen to what God has to say will usually have an audience to hear what they have to say. "Obedience is better than sacrifice."

A RECREATION BUILDING featuring facilities for several indoor sports will be constructed at Louisiana Training Institute in Monroe at a cost of $270,000. Breck Construction Co. of Monroe will construct the all-purpose building, designed by architects Van Os & Flaxman of Shreveport. Supt. A. L. Swanson says a $400,000 construction program is underway at LTI, including a $130,000 dormitory for boys in addition to the recreation building. This is the architect's conception of the rec. building.

Logtown 4-H'ers Elect Officers

The Logtown 4-H Club elected officers for the coming year at their regular monthly meeting recently at the Logtown School.

Officers included Sandra Calloway as president, Donna Cascio as vice president, Pam Shipp as secretary, Pat Stout as program chairman, Loretta Hodnett as reporter and Mike Calloway as council members. Loretta Hodnett was presented with five ribbons and three checks for prizes won in the parish and State Fair in sewing, by the faculty sponsor.

NEW U.S. FORECAST

Estimate Sliced On Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop at 14,304,000 bales of 500 pound gross weight Friday or just about the amount that domestic and export markets are expected to require.

This semi-final estimate of the crop is 234,000 bales less than was forecast a month ago. Adverse weather conditions were largely responsible.

By comparison, production last year was 14,272,000 bales and 13,553,000 for the 1950-59 average.

The crop was grown under federal planting allotments and marketing quotas designed to prevent overproduction. It will be supplemented by a reserve of about 7,200,000 bales from previous crops.

The department said the indicated crop is below the Nov. 1 forecast in all states except Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Arkansas and North Carolina.

The yield of cotton per harvested acre was estimated at 438 pounds compared with 446 pounds last year and the record high of 466 in 1959.

In an accompanying report, the Census Bureau said 11,698,420 running bales from the crop had been ginned prior to Dec. 1. This compared with ginnings of 12,576,263 to the comparable date last year.

Production of cottonseed was estimated at 5,932,000 tons compared with 5,886,000 tons last year and 5,589,000 for the ten-year average.

The report said later surveys indicated that this year's acreage planted to cotton totalled 16,587,000 for the ten-year average.

The report said later surveys indicated that this year's acreage planted to cotton totaled 16,587,000 acres or three per cent more than last year.

The acreage harvested, the yield per harvested acre, and the production, respectively, of cotton by states included:

Tennessee 535,000; 498 and 555,000; Alabama 910,000; 330 and 625,000; Mississippi 1,590,000,494 and 635,00; Arkansas 1,360,000; 514 and 1,455,000.

Louisiana 545,000; 423 and 480,000; and Texas 6,550,000; 348 and 4,750,000.

The ginnings to Dec. 1 this year and last, respectively, by states included:

Alabama 587,314 and 741,598 running bales; Arkansas 1,311,835 and 1,254,436; Louisiana 409,325 and 459,684; Mississippi 1,433,783 and 1,447,846; Tennessee 474,509 and 538,095; and Texas 3,248,941 and 3,691,077.

Bastrop Man New President Of Association

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Deep South Farm Equipment Association elected Harold Runyon of Bastrop, La., as president Friday as it ended its 17th annual convention.

Other officers include Fred Neal, Lake Charles, first vice president; Rommel Fright, Crystal Springs, Miss., second vice president, A. A. Breeden, Baton Rouge, treasurer; and B. C. Samson, Alexandria, secretary-manager.

How To Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

DON'T take your GRIEF CASE HOME

The brief case is a grief case when it is taken home filled with unfinished office work. It robs a person of leisure time and serves as a reminder of unfinished work.

Many business and professional men work constantly as they struggle along the ladder of success. They are overly ambitious in their desire to excel, they cannot let go. To them, relaxation is synonymous with laziness. These persons become nervous and fidgety when they have nothing to do and champ at the bit when asked to spend a quiet evening with friends.

From a medical point of view, the majority are excellent candidates for a heart attack, ulcer, high blood pressure, or spastic bowel. Many are victims of a psychological disturbance that drives them on. They disregard their health, eat irregularly, use coffee and tea to excess, and do not get enough sleep.

Some become unhappy when they realize they cannot retract because they are in too deep. Most of these individuals are members of the grief case brigade and the sooner they realize this fact, and act on it, the longer they can expect to live.

The secret is to realize this before forgetting how to play. It has been said that if a man cannot finish his work in eight hours, he has too many jobs, is poorly organized, or is not as good an executive as he is rated to be. Most tasks (except daily health columns) will keep until tomorrow; there is no need to carry them home.

Alcohol is used by many these men to produce relaxation. There is no harm in a cocktail or two but the individual is in danger of becoming an alcohol when drinks are used to escape from reality.

A Chicago heart specialist recommends whisky to his heart patients who have no aversion to drinking. He suggests a cocktail or two before dinner not to whet the appetite but for relaxation. When the drinks cause drowsiness, this usually means that the man has worked too hard at the office and is in need of sleep. He should take the hint and go to bed. On the other hand, when he feels relaxed after the meal he can sit down and enjoy a book, radio, or TV program. He should not open the grief case and go to work.

SYMPTOMS OF DIABETES

J. E. writes: What are the symptoms of diabetes? My aunt has this disease and I would like to be on the lookout for it in my family.

REPLY

Typical symptoms are increased appetite, thirst, and urination. But the condition may exist for months or years before symptoms develope. Hence it is wise to have the urine examined periodically.

HEPATITIS VACCINE

A. F. writes: If a member of the family comes down with hepatitis, is there a shot the others can take to keep from getting it?

REPLY

Not yet but several research groups are working on a vaccine.

CHEST X-RAYS

J. F. writes: Do the free chest X-rays disclose cancer?

REPLY

Yes, but additional X-ray studies are necessary to determine whether a shadow seen in the small film has the characteristics of cancer.

INFECTED NAIL

W. P. writes: What causes yellow fluid to ooze from an ingrowing toe nail?

REPLY

Infection has developed; the part of the nail that is digging into the soft tissues acts like a festered sliver.

5 IN FAMILY KILLED

Bayonet Massacre Suspect Is Seized

MIAMI, Fla. (A)—An escaped madman, wanted in the wild bayonet massacre of his brother-in-law's family in New york, has been seized by chance while rowing the Florida Keys in a rowboat. He was posing as a Cuban refugee.

The man, Mate (Mike) Ivanov, 37, a stocky, dark-haired Yugoslav immigrant, is accused in a New York warrant of running amok Nov. 25 in the modest Long Island home of the brother-in-law who had given him haven in this country a year ago.

When police came upon the scene next day, they found all five members of the Peter Gregov family stabbed and slashed to death. A French bayonet found on the premises was identified as the murder weapon.

Even the Gregovs' pet poodle was slain with 17 stab wounds during the orgy.

A clue to the motive was contained in a note signed by Ivanov and found in the Gregov home. Written in Croatian, it read in part:

"They put me for lifetime in the crazy house. I begged all of them that I should be helped and they should let me be free of the crazy house. Nobody helped me and therefore I am sentenced to death in the crazy house.

"So before my death I have to get even."

Domestic difficulties between Ivanov and his wife, Tomica, 35, led to the intervention of the wife's brother, Gregov. The upshot was that Ivanov was committed last June 12 to the Central Islip State Hospital on Long Island. He escaped Nov. 15.

The hospital called him a victim of chronic mental illness, but said he was not regarded as dangerous. However, a man who had employed Ivanov as a busboy found him arrogant and badtempered. And relatives said he frequently mistreated his wife.

Ivanov, 5 feet 9 and weighing 190 pounds, was known as a judo expert, a man of considerable strength.

Nassau County police claimed "irefutable evidence" that Ivanov was on the scene of the massacre at Mineola, N.Y. They obtanied a first-degree murder warant against him and sent out a 13-state alarm.

May Hold Meet To Pick Chief

WINNFIELD (Special) — A spokesman indicated Friday that a special meeting of the City Council may be called next week for the selection of a permanent police chief.

Police Chief Cecil Alderman has resigned, according to Mayor Mary Allen.

Lt. Percy Roberts was appointed acting police chief.

Alderman had served 14 months as chief of police, succeeding former Police Chief Edwin Kelly.

Kelly resigned to accept a deputyship with the Winn Parish Sheriff's Department. Five police officers have resigned in the last six years for jobs with the sheriff's department or state police.

Mayor Allen said Alderman presented his resignation Tuesday night following an executive session of the City Council.

Alderman's personal plans for the future have not been disclosed.

Governor Asks Boston Police Head To Resign

BOSTON (UPI)—Gov. John A. Volpe Friday asked Boston Police Commissioner Leo J. Sullivan to resign.

The governor said in a statement that he wrote to Sullivan saying that his resignation was "the first and most essential step in the restoration of necessary public confidence in the (police) department."

The governor acted less than 24 hours after he and Sullivan viewed a television documentary about bookie operations in Boston. The film showed 10 policemen entering and leaving an alleged gambling parlor.

HUIE E. Krana, 37, (left) of Davenport, Iowa, watches as Sgt. Edward Wechtel of the Toledo, Ohio Police counts out $3,135 in cash taken from Krana's wallet. Krana is accused of leading a ring that swindled a grain firm of $180,000. In the right foreground is Clarence L. Cole, 42, Rock Island, Ill., one of four truck drivers implicated in the scheme. ## SANTA and the FLYING SHOE

by Lucrece Beale

SNYOPSIS: Polydora was peaceful when King Ferdinand went to bed. But during the night, mysterious things begin happening in the palace. And then, with a crashing roar, the dreadful Ipswitch returns!

CHAPTER SIX
THE PEOPLE PANIC

THIS time the Ipswitch landed on an acre of Christmas trees which stood in little red and green pots behind the palace. These trees had been gathered from all over the land and were to be given to the poor on Christmas Eve. King Ferdinand had decorated them with tinsel and blue and silver balls and toy horns and candy canes and a golden star on the tip top of every one.

Now the field lay in ruins, the trees and the pots and the pretty decorations crushed beneath the enormous left foot of the Ipswitch.

In the palace itself all was confusion. The Ministers, gathered in the King's bed room, were flung, violently about. A rare antique vase fell from a mantle piece and knocked the Minister of Science senseless, the Minister of War was wound into the bed springs and the King himself was tossed into the air and left hanging by his knees from the chandelier.

Gradually they righted themselves and, when dawn came, went out to survey the damage. Again, no one had seen the Ipswitch itself and the only thing that marked its passage was the footprint in the field of Christmas trees.

Now the people were really frightened and worse still, they had lost faith in King Ferdinand who had told them the Ipswitch had drowned. They began to mutter against the King and say that if he couldn't do something to defend the kingdom he should step down and let someone else rule the land.

But Ferdinand was undismayed. He set up a watch around the town and palace.

"If we keep our eyes open we are bound to see the Ipswitch when it comes again and when we do see it we will capture it, dead or alive!" He ordered his men to be alert and to attack at first sight of the enemy.

For three whole days and nights the guard with King Ferdinand in command, watched over the palace grounds and the Public Square and for three days and night nothing hoappened.

On the fourth day a guard suddenly shouted, "Here it comes!"

The King and all the guards looked up and saw a great black shoe coming down from above. While they waited to attack the foot landed with a crash in an empty playground. The shock of the crash sent the guards sprawling and when they picked themselves up the Ipswitch was gone.

After this the King did not know what to do for how could he fight an enemy he could not see? To make matters worse, ever since the first appearances of the Ipswitch, the palace itself had been haunted.

Not only did doors open and close by themselves and sheets slide from the King's bed but the King often heard whispering sounds and creeking stairs and tapping on the walls when it was late at night and no one around at all.

Meanwhile, the people were sure that the next time the Ipswitch came it would step right on their very own homes. They howled for something to be done and, since they couldn't have the Ipswitch's head, some even began to clamor for the King's head!

Poor Ferdinand! He sat in his room and thought, "Oh, dear, why did all this have to happen so close to Christmas!" He remembered the letter to Santa he had never finished writing. "It's just as well," he sighed. "For by Christmas I shall not even be here anymore."

Catahoula Gets $1,283 From Tax On Timber

JONESVILLE (Special) — The Catahoula parish police jury received $1,283.00 from timber severance tax revenues during July, August and September of this year, it was reported by C. H. Lewis Jr., executive director of the Louisiana Forestry Association.

This represents 75 per cent of the total timber severance taxes collected within the parish during the three month period, he pointed out, with the remainder going to the state general fund.

Parishes receive the major share of all timber severance proceeds as result of the Forest Taxation Law passed by the Louisiana Legislature in 1954, Lewis said. Before that, all proceeds went to the state.

JFK Sticks With Latin Tour Plans

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy is sticking with his promise to make a goodwill trip to Venezuela next weekend despite anti-U.S. demonstrations in Caracas.

Acting White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher told newsmen Friday that, "Nothing has happened in the past 48 hours, specifically the demonstrations, which would deter the President from continuing with his plans to visit Latin America."

Caracas was the scene of a rock-throwing attack on former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in 1958.

Hatcher termed published accounts of Thursday's demonstrations "slightly exaggerated." He said White House aides had been in touch with the U.S. Embassy in Caracas, capital of Venezuela.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy are scheduled to be in Caracas a week from Saturday. They expect to leave Washington Dec. 15 on a four-day journey that will take them to Puerto Rico en route to Venezuela and Colombia.

Gerald Behn, head of the White House Secret Service detail; press secretary Pierre Salinger; Capt. Tazewell Shepard, the President's naval aide, and other White House assistant were in Caracas on a survey of places the Kennedys will visit.

Such surveys are normal in advance of a presidential trip. Hatcher said the group would determine what has happened in Caracas and make arrangements for the Kennedys' stay there and at Bogota, capital of Colombia.

January Draft Call Is Issued, Totals 15,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department issued a January draft call Friday for 15,000 men, the lowest since August when the buildup of U.S. military strength in the Berlin crisis began.

The December draft totaled 16,000. The highest monthly call during the buildup period was 25,000 in September.

The Defense Department said of the total personnel gains during the buildup period, exclusive of the active duty call to 156,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen, about half came from draft inductions.

Other gains, the Pentagon said, came from enlistments, reenlistments and officer appointment programs.

Since the start of the buildup, the Defense Department said, enlistments have increased by more than 50 per cent.

All 15,000 in the January draft will be taken into the Army.

DEAN RUSK SAYS

Katanga Threat To Congo Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday secession by Katanga could plunge the Congo into anarchy and open the doors to the Communists.

Strongly backing the disputed U.N. Congo operation, Rusk said the United Nations and the United States seek a stable Congo where Congolese leaders can shape their own government.

The world organization, in the Katanga fighting, does not seek to "conquer" the Congo province, but is just trying to secure the U.N. position against Katanga harassment, he said.

Rusk spoke at a 30-minute news conference a day before his takoff for a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ministers in Paris.

The main topic at the Paris gathering will be the Berlin crisis. On that, Rusk sought to minimize acknowledged differences among the Allies on how to work out a peaceful settlement with the Reds.

"The differences which really count are those which exist between Moscow and the West—that is the heart of the matter," he said. "The problem of peaceful settlement is whether the Soviet Union will recognize and respect these long-established rights and vital interests" by the Allies in Germany.

Much of the questioning dealt with the Congo, where secessionist Katanga President Moise Tshombe is denouncing the United States and where America's European Allies seem less enthusiastic than Washington about the U.N. undertaking.

"If Katanga is not peacefully integrated," Rusk declared, "the Congo will face civil war and anarchy and be open to Communist penetration."

"It is our policy to help the Congolese people to resolve these difficulties and to give the United Nations our best support to achieve its mandate," Rusk said.

"We hope that the leaders of Katanga will recognize that their present path leads nowhere.

"The primary mission of the U.N. forces is to protect themselves, to maintain their communications, and to provide a situation in which the political processes among Congolese leaders can move on to a responsible and peaceful settlement. We fully subscribe to the U.N. program in that regard."

Rusk dealt with these further subjects:

VIET NAM—The United States wants other countries to join in aiding South Viet Nam against what Rusk termed sharply increased Communist terror and armed infiltration. Rusk made this news conference statement in conjuction with State Department issurance today of a White Paper detailing Red activities said to be aimed at taking over the Southeast Asian country.

CASTRO — Last weekend's announcement by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that he is a Communist "saves us the considerable task of providing to other people in conclusive terms what we have known for some time, because they now have said it themselves."

Rusk suggested Castro's timing of his public disclosure caused the Communist world some difficulty. He judged this from the absence of publicity which the Reds might have been expected to give to Castro's statement.

Racial Group's Boycott Threat Receives Study

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Twelve merchants met Friday to decide how to meet threats of an economic boycott by the Congress of Racial Equality here.

Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher and parish attorney Gordon Kean met behind closed doors with the merchants.

Newsmen were told there would be no comment on the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building, nor any statement afterward.

Ronnie Moore, 20-year-old president of the CORE unit here, said only one of the 12 downtown stores complied with a mandate to answer the group's registered letters demanding equal employment for Negroes and desegregation of store facilities.

Paper, Solon Lash Out At Polk Critics

FORT POLK, La. (UPI) — The Signalaire, a post newspaper here, and a Texas congressman Friday spoke out against reports that conditions at the newly-activated base are poor.

The paper said it "would hardly have been wise to build deluxe facilities," for the men called back to duty.

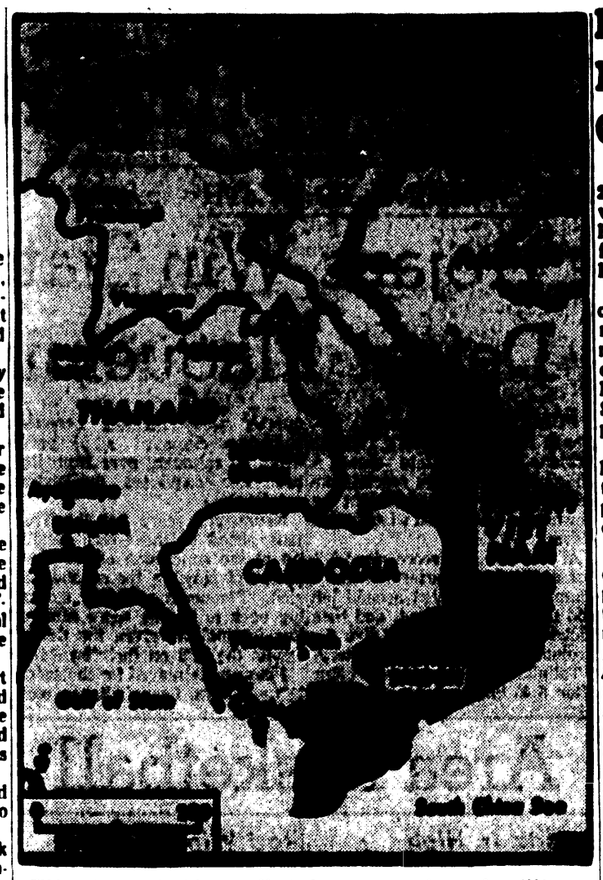
"Could you imagine the uproar that would have gone through the halls of congress and the furor the press would have created," the paper said.

The story said the men are "living in barracks which are adequate, the food being served is both wholesome and in sufficient quantities, and medical services for their protection are excellent."

U. S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth said he visited the fort and spoke with about 300 soldiers. He said his talks with them convinced him conditions are not as bad as described by some troops.

The congressman said he found many men who resent those who have made complaints.

More than 100 soldiers last week wrote their congressman complaining of conditions at the post.



THE U. S. Friday called for economic and military reinforcements for South Viet Nam, shaded area. The appeal was made to Allied and non-Communist nations. The State Department published a white paper warning Allies and neutrals alike of possible Communist conquest in South Viet Nam. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk at a Washington news conference said it is the hope of the U. S. that other governments will join in providing help to Viet Nam. (AP Wirephoto)

Polling Places In Referendum Are Announced

JONESVILLE (Special) — Polling places where Catahoula parish farmers may cast ballots in the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1962 upland cotton crop were announced by P. J. Rison, chairman, agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee. The referendum will be held Tuesday.

The polling places are located as follows:

Ward 1, Watson's Store and Newman's store; Ward 2, W. C. Knotts Store, Barron's Service Station and Martin High school; Ward 3, Enterprise high school; Ward 4, Manifest school; Ward 5, ASCS office; Ward 6, Spink's store, M. E. Cloessner, Sr. Residence, Archie Post Office and Catahoula Truck and Tractor Building; Ward 7, Elmly Store, Central school of Larto and Hartwell Spinks Residence.

Polls will be opened from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Chairman Rison explained that every effort has been made to inform farmers fully about the allotment - quota program, so that the outcome of the referendum may represent the considered opinion of all the voters. Farmers eligible to cast ballots are all those who engaged in the production of the upland cotton crop in 1961. Approval by at least two - thirds of the growers voting is necessary if the quotas are to go into effect.

AILING IN HOSPITAL

Successor Sought By Santa's Helper

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Albert Warnhoff spent most of his life playing Santa's helper and now he needs someone to follow in his footsteps.

Warnhoff, 72, a carpenter and lumberman, spent his last 50 years building more than 45,000 toys and sending them to boys and girls in hospitals and orphanages all over the world.

He received many formal thanks from lots of places.

But, Warnhoff said, "of the many honors I have received, the one I liked best was to see the sparkle in a sick child's eyes when I gave him a toy. I feel more happy than if I had piled up a lot of money and been a big shot.

"If I had my life over again I would still like to be Santa's helper."

But Santa's helper is in an Ann Arbor Hospital with lung cancer. He made only 500 toys this year. They'll be delivered to children in hospitals in the area next week.

Warnhoff retired when he turned 66 and devoted his full time to his workshop. He turned out angels, cradles, benches, rocking horses, boats, dogs that wiggle their tails—all manner of toys.

Nehru Rejects Proposal For Goa Invasion

NEW DELHI, (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru Friday refused to agree to a demand in Parliament that the army invade the Portuguese enclave of Goa next month and claim it for India.

New border incidents were reported around the enclave on India's West coast, and newspapers in London expressed fear that India plans an invasion. The Indian government charged the Portuguese have mined coastal waters and reinforced border posts. Portugal charged Indian aircraft violated Goan air space three times Thursday.

Kennedy Sends Congratulations To Tanganyika

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy congratulated Taanganyika Friday on achieving independence. He said the new nation offers "a welcome sense of responsibility and a staunch independence."

Kennedy sent a message praising Prime Minister Julius Nyerere and Tanganyikans on bringing their country through United Nations trusteeship under Great Britain to equality among nations.

"For Americans," the President said, "also cherish individual liberty and national independence, and they share with Taanganyika the knowledge that these goals are achieved and maintained only at the cost of unremitting labor and sacrifice."

Pappas Intercepts Lee Pass For Winning TD

Score Comes With 6:40 In Third Period

per cent of his passes prior to last night's game.

It was a hard-fought battle all the way with a big group of Tigers standing out on defense and the Neville ground game working with devastating effeciency despite a muddy field which was a quagmire from the one 10-year marker to the other.

The Tigers racked up 15 first downs to five for Lee and smashed out 195 yards on the soggy field.

A great Tiger defense held the Rebels to 49 yards rushing and, aided by the wetness, to 29 through the air. Mooch was held to two completions in nine attempts.

Halfback Sam Wilson returned the opening kickoff from the Neville 13 to 32 and from there the Tigers slugged up to the Lee 29 in eight plays.

But quarterback Jerry Jones lost 13 yards on a third down pass attempt and Robert Payne booted down to the Rebel 14.

Lee cracked up to the 27 where Mooch hit John Chadwick at the Reb 40. The halfback fumbled when he was hit and Bunzy Bryant recovered for Neville on the 45.

In 13 plays the Bengals barged all the way to the Lee nine, only to have Jones smothered on another pass attempt at the 25.

On the next play Tommy Hamilton intercepted Don Saget's pass at the goal line and knifed back to the 22.

A big 15-yard penalty kept the ball in Rebel hands when their attack had completely faltered and gave them a first down at the Tiger 49. Lee then pushed to Neville's 35 where Chadwick dropped a punt dead on the Neville one foot line.

Halfback Jimmy Howard got to the nine on the next play and Neville moved up to its 32 where a penalty shoved the ball back to the 17 and Payne booted out to Lee's 44.

Chadwick's next kick was partially blocked at the Reb 45 and got only to the Tiger's 32. Halfback Sam Walker gained to the 38 on the next play and then Saget hit Walker on the Lee 49, but the lanky quarterback's next pass after the horn had sounded was wide.

Lee got the third quarter kickoff back to its 40, but was stopped cold, largely by the defensive work of tackle Tom Duncan who staged a one man play stopping exhibition by getting in on all three tackles made.

On the last he was joined by the other tackle John Segers, and the two dumped Mooch for a big loss.

After an exchange of punts Lee took over on its 33.

On the first play Mooch made his fatal error and Pappas intercepted his pass and went the 43 yards needed to score.

Brant ran the PAT for the 7-0 lead with 6:40 left in the third quarter.

The Tigers, out for blood then, ground all the way their 36 to the Lee 17 before Jones fumbled and Don Hardy recovered for Lee.

Four plays later Neville got the skin again and sliced to the Rebel 27 in 12 plays only to have the ball go over on down.

Neville got the ball once more, this time with about three minutes left. After picking up a crucial first down at the Lee 32 with 50 seconds left the Tigers absorbed a 15 yard penalty, ran one play, then stood in the huddle with the ball at the 41 and watched the clock run out.

A mass of fans raced onto the field at the final whistle and for minutes afterward people in cars and still on the field shouted we're number one.

And it was true. The crafty Ruple and his "pore little boys" had done it again.

Wilson was Neville's big ground gainer with 82 yards on 21 carries. He was followed by Howard with 51 on 15 runs. Little Brant added 32 on only five runs and Ralph Roberts got 27 in seven runs.

Lyman Anselmo, a back who was supposed to miss the game, led the Rebs, along with Mooch and fullback Robert Williams.

Anselmo gained 14 yards on four carries, while Mooch and Williams got 13 apiece, Williams on five runs and Mooch on five.

A group of players stood out for both teams on defense. Tackle Bob Duncan justified the belief of a lot of folks who think he is the best. The other tackle, John Segars was brilliant on occassion.

Nick White, Steve Jefferson, Don Christenson and Mike Wilson all turned their share of the tackles along with Tom Sparks and Ronald Killen. In addition, Christenson blocked one Mooch pass in the Lee backfield.

But the big one was Pappas who came through with his usual alertnes when it counted the most.

Lee too had its defensive stars. Particularly good showings came from Steve Kroger, Chamie Baum, Chadwick, the punter, and David Kearns.

But Neville's ground game kept Lee from getting the ball too much and when the Rebels did, a vicious Bengal defense blunted their efforts.

This held the Baton Rouge club scoreless and made the Pappas clutch play the big one.

MIKE WILSON (below No. 10 for Lee High) is tackled after a good pickup in the first quarter of last night's Class AA state championship game, won by Neville 7-0. Big John Segars (77) bowls over a Rebel player while quarterback Joe Mooch (10) and halfback Tommy Hamilton (30) of Lee move up on the play. On the ground is Neville end Hershel Walker (54). ## Tribe Faces Big Obstacle Tonight Against Cardinals

The biggest — literals and figuratively — obstacle of the young basketball season faces Northeast State's cagers tonight when they tackle Lamar Tech's Cardinals in Beaumont, Tex.

Undefeated after three games, Northeast will be facing a team that has won two games, one over major college opposition, and lost twice strong major college powers. Lamar has beaten Missouri Valley Conference member North Texas State, 70-50, and Arlington State, 77-60, and has been edged by Hank Iba's Oklahoma State team, 54-51, and Houston, 72-70.

The Cardinals are easily the tallest team the Indians have faced this season. They have one player who towers 6-8, two who stand 6-6, another at 6-5 and three are listed at 6-4. Northeast's biggest man is third - teamer John Hagan (6-7) and the only other Indian over 6-4 is Robert Cook (6-5).

Coach Jack Martin of Tech is expected to open with 5-10 James Barrum, all - Lone Star Conference guard, Willie Williams (5-9), Larry Augsburger (6-4), Richard Smith (6-2) and either George Zurenda (6-6) or Wesley Newman (6-8). Tribe Coach Lenny Fant will have Cook (6-5), Jimmy Walker (6-4), Bob Groves (6-2), Lanny Johnson (6-1) and Stuart Toms (5-11) as his starting five.

Northeast will be seeking to avoid a repetition of last season's first game with Lamar. The Tribe also opened the 1960-61 campaign with three straight victories but saw the string snapped by Lamar, 77-70. The Red Birds dropped the Indians on two other occasions last year.

The Indians will play Lamar again in Monroe next Thursday night, after meeting Delta State on the road Tuesday.

Tonight's game is slated to begin at 8 p.m. and will be broacast on radio station KMLB.

GAINS FINALS

Carroll Defeats Landry, 12 To 7

The Carroll High Bulldogs of Monroe fought from behind and then put up a fine goal line stand in the waning minutes to defeat the Landry Buccaneers, 12 to 7, here last night in a triple-A semi-final for the Negro high school football championship of the state.

The victory sends Carroll into the state championship finals next Friday night against the Webster Wolves of Minden. The game, decided at a meeting after last night's game, will be played at Carroll High Stadium here.

The Buccaneers got the jump on Coach J. L. Thomas' Bulldogs last night, driving 45 yards for a first quarter touchdown, the payoff being a pitch from quarterback Marvin Miller to Lionel Jones. Landry also passed for the point to grab a 7-0 lead.

The Bulldogs came to life with an offensive display of their own in the same quarter, with a 50-yard drive that finished with Walter Thompson going over for Carroll's first touchdown. The try for the point failed, and Landry held a 7-6 lead at the half.

The Carroll defenses, rising to the occasion and proving a big factor in the victory, got the Bulldogs on the road to triumph early in the third quarter by blocking a Landry kick and taking possession on the visitors' two. Again the try for the point failed, but Carroll was in front, 12-7, and a desperate defensive stand later preserved the lead.

Landry put on a desperate bid for victory in the final quarter, shaking a runner loose and apparently free, but Carroll halfback Joe Baker caught him from behind after a 75-yard run, stopping the Landry dash at the Carroll four.

Then the Bulldogs defense really took charge, repulsing steady pounding to hold for downs at the four.

Defensive standouts in the mud-splattered game that was under a steady rain almost throughout were Levi Powell, Vernon Randolph, Thomas Harvey, James White, John Bowman, and Joe Baker.

Carol High, which defeated Landry High of New Orleans 13-7 here last night, plays Webster High school of Minden here for the AAA Negro state championship at 8 p.m. Friday night, Dec. 15.

Record Costello Job Not Enough; Celts Take Game

BOSTON (AP) — A record smashing shooting exhibition by Syracuse's Larry Costello proved in vain Friday night as the Boston Celtics defeated the Nationals 123-111 in the National Basketball Association.

Costello hit on the first 13 field goals he tried, all but two of them long bombs.

His first miss came when he shot from beyond midcourt with time running out in the third period. Costello also was 6-for-6 from the foul line over that stretch.

Costello's streak broke a record held jointly by Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia and George Yardley, formerly of Syracuse. Costello wound up with 32 points.

Boston held only a 33-29 lead at the end of the first period. But the Celtics outscored the Nats, 26-11 in the first six minutes of the second quarter and opened up a 59-40 bulge.

Bob Ferguson Signs To Play With Steelers

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers announced on Friday the signing of Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson, a barrel-chested All-America who in his college career has been thrown for a loss only three times for a total of six yards.

The Steelers did not announce on what terms they had signed Ferguson, twice the Big Ten's scoring and rushing leader who scored four touchdowns in games against Illinois and Michigan during the past season.

Ferguson, a 220-pound, 21-year-old solid-legged runner, had also been sought by the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League. The Steelers said their assistant coach Mike Nixon had signed Ferguson in Columbus, Ohio.

The Steelers said they received the help of Buckeye coach Woody Hayes and Pittsburgh Pirate owner John Galbreath in convincing Ferguson that he should sign with the National Football League entry.

Ferguson was the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice and he received more votes on United Press International's All-America team than any other player.

Hayes has termed Ferguson the "best fullback I have ever coached."

Sid Gillman, coach of the Chargers, and Nixon have been in Columbus all week attempting to sign Ferguson. It was understood that both teams were prepared to go the limit to acquire Ferguson's services.

Ferguson, of Troy, Ohio, had said earlier this week that he "would like to play in Pittsburgh — if the offer if right." Apparently, the Steelers made the right offer.

Oberlin Rolls Over Plain Dealing, 25-14

PLAIN DEALING, La. (AP) — Quarterback George Richard and fullback Hoyle Granger, a hulking 210-pound all-state candidate, each scored two first half touchdowns to lead Oberlin to a 25-14 victory over Plain Dealing in the class B football semifinals Friday night.

Oberlin will meet Clinton next week for the championship.

It was Oberlin's second straight victory over Plain Dealing in the class B semifinals. Plain Dealing racked up 11 straight this year after bowing to Oberlin in the semis last year.

Quarterback Steve Brando sprinted 4-yards on the first play from scrimmage to give Plain Dealing a touchdown lead with only a minute gone on the clock.

But Oberlin struck back with Granger returning a kickoff 76 yards for one touchdown and then sprinting 16 yards up the middle for another.

Richard tallied on a 70-yard pass interception run and a 30-yard sprint over tackle.

Brando, the game's top rusher with 100 yards in 11 carries, scored Plain Dealing's final tally late in the fourth quarter on a 5-yard dash.

Oberlin, winning its 13th straight, lost out in the statistic department for the first time this year. Plain Dealing netted 13 first downs to seven for Oberlin and rolled up 323 yards total offense to 196 for the victors.

Coach Of Band Bowl Team Is All-American

A former all-American will be at the helm of one of the teams in the first annual Band Bowl this Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at Southside High.

John White, all-American at Texas Christian in 1935, is coaching the Knights team which plays the Carosals in the Sunday affair.

Both teams are made up of ex-football players who are in bands from the Monroe area. Admission is free.

Among the festivities planned for the inaugural Band Bowl is a halftime show put on by the Lee Junior High band.

Because of their heavy line and backfield the Carosals have been installed as seven point favorites.

However, the Knights possess great team speed and can call on three men who can do the hundred in 10 flat.

W. M. Smith coaches the Carosals, who will operate from double and single wing formations.

The Knights run from an almost multiple-offense, featuring the T, I and single win.

Trojans Win State Crown; Defeat Plaquemine, 14-7

PLAQUEMINE (Special) — Coach Racer Holdstead's Tallulah Trojans won the state class A championship for the second consecutive year here last night by downing a determined Plaquemine eleven, 14-7.

At halftime, the score stood 7-7, but in the final quarter Tallulah's Chapman Lee scooted around left end from two yards out, and then kicked the extra point to give the Trojans their margin of victory.

Tallulah's other score came after 5:46 had lapsed in the first quarter when fullback Leonard Neumann climaxed a 55 yard drive by ramming over from the two. Lee converted the extra point.

Neumann's score put the Trojans ahead of the Green Devils 7-0 at the conclusion of the first period of play. In the second period, Plaquemine came storming back to tie the score after a Lee fumble had given the Green Devils the ball on their own 47.

Plaquemine moved for the score in four plays. Leon Callahan took a short pass from quarterback Don Brooks good for four yards on first down, then carried twice to give the Green Devils a first on the 43. On the next play 128-pound halfback, Robie Landry set sail around left end and moved the 43 yards for Plaquemine's only score. Callahan ran the extra poi

Just before the first half ended, Tallulah's Billy Ross Graves intercepted a Brooks' pass and rambled to the nine to put the Trojans in scoring position. On the first play, quarterback Donald Trichell faded to pass but was nailed for a three yard loss. After another pass fell incomplete, Neumann bulled his way to the six, but a fourth down Trichell pass was picked off by Landry to break up the threat.

Plaquemine received the second half kickoff but gave up the ball on downs after making one first down and reaching their own 40.

After and exchange of punts, the Green Devils took over their own 39 with the score still tied 7-7.

On the first play Callahan went to the 43, then Howell went to the 47 for a first down. Plaquemine tried two running plays without success, then a pass fell incomplete before Wilson intercepted Brooks' fourth down pass on the Tallulah 40, returning to the 49.

From there Lee swung to the right sidelines and raced all the way to the Plaquemine 18 for a first down.

Neumann then tried the middle, the left side, a wide swing around left end, and then off tackle to push the ball to the four for another first down.

Edward Smith went to the three, and Lee was held for no gain, but on third down Lee went wide to the left and scored the winning touchdown with 5:22 left in the game.

As the game ended Plaquemine was throwing desperation passes. Smith intercepted one and Lee picked off one to break up two scoring threats.

NLSC Signs 2 Area Prep Grid Stars

Two of northeast Louisiana's most outstanding prep footballers — Jewel McBroom of West Monroe and Sonny Bondurant of Wisner — have signed athletic scholarships with Northeast State, Athletic Director Jack Rowan announced Friday.

McBroom has made the all-district 1-AAA team the past two seasons and was named to the second all-state team in 1960 as a junior. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewel McBroom Sr. of 2401 Swiss in West Monroe, he weighs 185 and stands 5-11.

Bondurant played quarterback, halfback and fullback at Wisner High and made the all-district team four years. He was an all-district choice as a freshman in 1958 and made it this year as a fullback. He also stands 5-11 and weighs 185 and is the son of Mr. an Mrs. Yelverton Bondurant Sr. of Wisner.

JEWEL McBROOM, star West Monroe High guard, signs a Northeast State athletic scholarship as Northeast line coach Leon Manley (left) and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jewel McBroom Sr., watch. McBroom, a 185-pounder, made the all-district 1-AAA team the past two seasons and was named to the all-state second team in 1960.

Istrouma Gets Revenge Over Sulphur, 14-7

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Istrouma's Indians gained sweet revenge where it counted most Friday night by whipping top-ranked Sulphur 14-7 and moving into the finals of Louisiana's triple-A football playoffs.

The Indians will meet the winner of Saturday's game between De La Salle and Warren Easton for the state championship.

Istrouma boomed into the lead early when Sulphur quarter Mike Duhon, a prime candidate for all-state honors, fumbled on the Sulphur 35. Istrouma tackle George Rice, another all-state possibility, scooped up the loose ball and raced for the touchdown. Lamar Labauve booted the conversion.

Sulphur then got its turn at bat and moved 45 yards for the tying scores. Fullback Mike Vincent punctured the Istrouma line from the two and end C. T. Campbell's conversion knotted the score.

The winning touchdown came in the third period and capped an 80-yard drive ended when Ronnie Murphy whipped a 5-yard pass to Ronnie McAdams in the Istrouma end zone. Earl Baron converted.

The Indians had the edge on the damp field, rolling up 206 yards running and passing while Sulphur accumulated 161.

The lone blot on Istrouma's regular season slate was its 6-0 setback from Sulphur early in the season.

Royals' Belated Hustle Plasters Hapless Hawks

CINCINNATI (AP)—A flurry of scoring in the last seconds of play helped Cincinnati clinch a 128-123 National Basketball Association victory Friday night over St. Louis.

The Hawks were within one point of a tie with 82 seconds to go when Cincinnati hustled up five straight points and kept the lead the rest of the way.

The Hawks, led by Bob Pettit with 41 points, had a hot first quarter and kept the issue in doubt through most of the second half.

Jack Twyman, who scored five of the Royals last nine points, headed the winners with 34 points.

The Hawks jumped out to an 18-6 edge, but Cincinnati came back to set up a 60-57 halftime lead.

St. Louis was without Barney Cable, sidelined by flu, and Johnny McCarthy, out with a knee injury.

Orange Blossom Pits Top Negro Grid Machines

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A couple of high-powered football teams—undefeated Florida A&M and once-topped Jackson (Miss.) State College—pit their might for the mythical national Negro collegiate title in the Orange Blossom Classic Saturday night.

Coach Jake Gaither's A&M Rattlers, ranked fourth nationally among small colleges by The Associated Press, rolled up 492 points in nine games this season for an average of 54.6 points per game and gave up only 25 points.

Jackson State totaled 249 points in 10 outings and yielded an average 6.9 points per game to opponents. Their sole loss was 17-1 to Southern College.

The anticipated crowd of more than 40,000 will be joined in the Orange Bowl by a number of pro football scouts. The classic has produced 22 pro players, 17 of whom are still playing.

Buckeyes Take Wichita, 85,-62

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State broke Wichita's four-game winning streak, 85-62, Friday night, with Buckeye Jerry Lucas contributing 27 points despite a heavily bandaged right knee.

It was the third straight victory for the Bucks, who play unbeaten Wake Forest, at Winston-Salem, N.C., Saturday night.

Lucas played less than 23 minutes of the one-sided contest. He has been suffering from recurring knee trouble over the years. When it developed again at Pittsburgh Wednesday it threatened for a time to keep him out of Friday night's action.

TWO IMPORTANT GAMES

NFL Fireworks To Begin Today; More Tomorrow

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

This weekend's fireworks in the National Football League begin at Los Angeles Saturday when the Baltimore Colts tangle with the Rams but the big show comes off in Philadelphia Sunday where the Eagles collide with the New York Giants for the Eastern Conference lead.

The Colts-Rams struggle, to be televised nationally (CBS, 4:30 p.m., EST), won't mean a thing from a championship standpoint. It's a Western Conference affair, and the Green Bay Packers already have won the division title for the second successive year.

Baltimore's bout with the Rams could determine one thing, however—whether the Colts remain a leading contender for Western runnerup honors and a berth in the NFL's Runnerup Bowl at Miami Jan. 6 against the Eastern bridesmaid.

The Colts have won seven, lost five and currently are in third place. Detroit holds second with a 7-4-1 mark and runs into the Minnesota Vikings (3-9) in Detroit Sunday. Los Angeles has a 3-9 record.

Other Sunday games send relaxed Green Bay (10-2) to San Francisco (6-5-1); the East's third place team, the Cleveland Browns (8-4) to Chicago (6-6); Pittsburgh (5-7) to Washington (0-11-1) and Dallas (4-7-1) to St. Louis (5-7).

Generally, both the Eagles and the Giants are physically ready for their tie-breaking Franklin Field battle in which New York is a 3½-point favorite. The Eagles have guard Stan Campbell and defensive back Don Burroughs ailing, but both may see action. Campbell has a bad shoulder and Burroughs a wrist injury.

New York's defensive back Jimmy Patton has been nursing a bruised shoulder, injured in the Giants' 20-17 loss last Sunday to Green Bay, but may play. Rookie safetyman Allan Webb will return after a week' absence due to injuries.

While the Giants were bowing to Green Bay, the Eagles were whipping the Pittsburgh Steelers 34-24. Philadelphias victory, coupled with New York's loss, left the two clubs tied with o-3 records. The last time they were all even was after the Nov. 12 game in which the Giants routed the defending champion Eagles 38-21.

The return match will climax a weeklong cold verbal war involving the two clubs. Early in the week, the Eagles pasted this newspaper headline on a dressing room locker: "Sam Huff says Eagles burned out."

Huff made the remark a couple of weeks ago after Philadelphia had lost successive games to the Giants and Cleveland.

Later, Chuck Bednarik, the Eagles' veteran linebacker, had this to say about Huff:

"Sam Huff is an overrated hillbilly who never wore a pair of shoes until he came to New York. Those newspaper guys build him up because he comes from New York. I've had it 'up to here' with Sam Huff."

The game shapes up as an aerial show between the Eagles' Sonny Jurgensen and the Giants' Y. A. Tittle. A major sidelight involves Philadelphia's crack offensive line attempting to exploit any weaknesses in New York's highly regarded defense.

Jurgensen played with a sore foot in the first game but is a pretty healthy gent now—as his seven-touchdown barrage in the last two games confirms.

Cleveland is only a game behind the Giants and Eagles but must beat the Bears to remain in the running. The Bears, who will play without injured quarterback Bill Wade and fullback Rick Casares, never have beaten the Browns.

6 PLAYERS ON FIRST TEAM

Plain Dealing Tops 1-B All-District Club

By JERRY ROBICHAUX
Shreveport Times Sports Writer

Henry Keeth, the superlative Plain Dealing end, and five of his Lion teammates head the 1961 1-B All-District team as chosen by the loops' eight coaches for the Louisiana Sports Writers Association.

Keeth, a 175 pound senior who won All-District honors a year ago as well, is the only unanimous choice to this year's edition.

Along with the lanky terminal, Coach Frank Bishop's unbeaten Lions placed their two halfback terrors — Trigger Allen and Charles Gray — on the honor squad.

Also making the outstanding eleven were black and red stalwarts James Alsworth and Horvall Blaylock, both tackles, and guard Terry Slack.

A 13-man first team was picked as ties developed at tackle and halfback. Charles Calvin of Bernice tied Blaylock for one tackle berth while Ronny Mitchell of Cotton Valley deadlocked Gray for a first team halfback spot.

Larry Nix of Cotton Valley was chosen to the other end position while Randy Slay of Logansport took a guard berth and Marshall Tilley of Haughton was tabbed for the center spot.

The remainder of the backfield included Steve Curry of Logansport at quarterback and Don Smith of Cotton Valley at fullback.

Smith is the only junior on the first team.

The league coaches picked Plain Dealing's Bishop as the outstanding coach for 1961 and named Allen of the Lions as the outstanding back.

A real race developed for the outstanding lineman award with Haughton's Tilley and Plain Dealing's Ashworth and Keeth tieing for the honor.

Ashworth and Allen missed unanimous ranking by only one vote.

Keeth handled 35 passes for 703 yards and six touchdowns during the year and was a standout on defense.

The 175 pound gridder probably ranks as one of the best terminals in the school's history.

Allen and Gray were "double trouble" for the opposition all year. Trigger stampeded for 1,620 yards, 19 touchdowns and a 12.5 yard rushing average in his senior season. Gray picked up 1,200 yards for a 12.0 yard average and six touchdowns.

Curry had a 40 per cent completion average for his aerial work. He pitched for nine touchdowns and scored five himself in 1961.

The 5-7, 135 pound senior was an adapt ballhandler and kept the Tigers of Coach Johnny Haynes in high gear all season.

Smith and Mitchell gave Cotton Valley a good scoring punch all year. The talented Mitchell shifted from halfback to fullback most of the year with little loss of effectiveness.

He picked up one vote of his total at the quarterback slot.

Smith is the heftiest of the backfield lot at 185. He packed explosive running power all year.

Sugar Ray KO's Greaves In Bid For Shot At Title

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, bidding for a sixth crack at the middleweight boxing title, knocked out Wilf Greaves at 43 seconds of the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round bout Friday night at Civic Arena in his latest comeback effort.

Both fighters weighed 161½. Robinson survived a second round knockdown for mandatory 8-count but came back strongly to finish his 26-year-old opponent.

Robinson floored Greaves for a 9-count in the eighth before knocking him out. Greaves got up just as referee Buck McTiernan finished the count.

It was Robinson's 95th knockout in 155 fights. He had gained a split decision over Greaves in Detroit last September, but not before the Canadian champion floored him in the eighth round.

Robinson, the 40-year-old boxing master, took charge from the start Friday night, jabbing and hooking effectively.

Greaves concentrated on Robinson's body and floored him for a mandatory 8 count in the second with a series of left and right hooks to the body.

Robinson, showing no effects from the knockdown, continued jabbing and hooking at the slower Greaves in the next round.

In the sixth and seventh rounds, Greaves got in some of his best blows, but Robinson was in command throughout.

A crowd of 7,428, paying a gross of $39,767, watched the triple-header card and the first fight at the plush $22 million arena.

Hornung To Play Again This Week

FT. RILEY, Kan (AP)—Pvt. Paul Hornung, Green Bay Packer football star, has been given a weekend pass from military duties here and plans to join the Packers for their Sunday game against the San Francisco 49'ers in San Francisco.

Hornung will be released from the post at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Weather permitting, Hornung will fly to San Francisco. It was snowing hard here.

Hankins Will Attempt To Run To Oak Grove

A Northeast State College freshman from Oak Grove, about 64 miles from here, plans to go home Sunday the hard way — running.

David Hankins, a member of Northeast's cross country team, says he's attempting the run to quiet some school mates who "said I couldn't run 10 miles." He plans to run the 10 miles and tack on 50 more for good measure, beginning four miles north of Monroe on the way to Oak Grove.

He'll start about 6 a.m. Sunday morning and hopes to make the trip in 11 hours.

The trip won't be the first long - distance joureny for the 5-3, 130 - pound runner. He's made "short" jaunts of 15 and 21 miles and last Saturday finished 19th in a field of 35 in the four - mile Gulf States Conference cross country meet, won by Northeast.

His diet Sunday will consist of vitamin tablets, honey candy bars and water, with friends in an automobile to serve as caterers.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hankins of Route 4, Oak Grove.

McNeese Wins Total-Offense Crown In GSC

LAKE CHARLES (Special) — McNeese State college's Cowboys won the total-offense crown of the Gulf States conference during the 1961 football season — but the margin of less than a yard.

According to figures furnished by the member colleges, McNeese's offense averaged 296.2 yards per game for nine games. The Pokes made their total on 1,476 yards rushing, plus 1,190 yards passing.

In second place was Southeastern's Lion's who wound up the season in a first-place tie with McNeese. The Lions averaged 295.4 yards per game.

McNeese, in addition to taking first in total ofense, was second in team passing, and third in team rushing and in team punting.

Northeast's Indians had the most efficient ground game. In 434 carries with the ball in their 10 games, the Indians averaged 4.37 yards per cary.

Southeastern was second here, too, with a 4.19 average on 557 carries.

Louisiana Tech, which struggled through one of its poorer GSC seasons, still wound up in first place in passing and in punting. The Tech air game produced 107 completions in 69 attempts, for 1,129 yards gained.

McNeese took second with 81 completions in 160 passes.

Tech's punting average was 38.7 yards per kick for 53 kicks in Tech's 10 regular-season games. USL was second with a 36.3 average.

Here are complete team figures for all six GSC teams for the 1961 regular season:

6 BOWLS TODAY

Gotham Contest Tops Grid Menu

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Utah State and Baylor headline the action Saturday as postseason college football makes its first big splurge with six bowl games.

Utah State's Aggies and the Baylor Bears match their contrasting styles in the first Gotham Bowl at New York's Polo Grounds. This one will be carried on network television ABC, 1:15 p.m. EST; and with good weather forecast, could attract a crowd of 20,000.

Also on the Saturday bowl schedule — New Mexico (6-4) vs. Western Michigan (5-3-1) in the Aviation Bowl at Dayton, Ohio; Pittsburg (Kan) State (10-0) vs. Linfield (Ore) (10-0) for the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics title in the Camelia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.; Florida A&M (9-0) vs. Jackson (Miss) State (9-1) for the mythical Negro college title in the Orange Blossom Classic at Miami; the Quantico Marines (9-3) vs. the Ft. Eustis Army team for the armed forces championship in the Missile Bowl at Orlando, Fla., and Cameron (Okla) Junior Colege (10-0) vs. Bakersfield (Calif.) junior College (9-0) in the Junior Rose Bowl at Bakersfield, Calif.

Utah State won nine games and played a 6-6 tie with Wyoming during the regular season, gain the Skyline Conference co-championship with Wyoming. The Aggies show impressive credentials both on attack and defense, with a massive line led by All-America tackle Merlin Olsen (6-foot-5, 265) and a nimble offense sparked by halfback Tommy Larscheid.

Baylor, hobbled by injuries through most of the season but sound now, won five and lost five. The Bears will pit their typical hell-for-leather Southwest Conference play against Utah State's ball-control game. Ron Bull, a quick and powerful 190-pound halfback, is Baylor's standout.

New Mexico and Western Michigan also promise a battle of opposites in the Aviation Bowl. The Lobos have a strong running game paced by Bob Santiago and Bob Morgan, while Western Michigan relies heavily on the passing of Ed Chlebech.

Pittsburg finished as the nation's top small college team and Linfield ranked seventh. Both won playoffs to gain the NAIA title game.

Ft. Eustis will be out for revenge as well as the armed forces title against Quantico. The Marines beat the soldiers during the regular season 9-7 on a disputed touchdown. Former Miami (Fla) star Fran Curci quarterbacks the Ft. Eustis squad.

Four Share Lead In Coral Gables

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Sixty-nine pros headed by George Knudson, Bill Farrell, Bill Collins and Dave Hill survied the midway cutoff Friday in the $20,000 Coral Gables Open Golf Tournament.

The leading quartet came in with 6-under-par totals of 136. Collins of Miami, and Hill, of Denver, made the grade on the strength of 5-under-par 66s. Knudson, of Toronto, and Farrell of Springfield, N.J., coasted in after first round 65s.

Collins, veteran of the four at 33, missed an eagle on the first green when his shot out of the bunker spun around the hole but did not sink. He gathered in five birdies in pairing 33s.

Hill posted a 31 on the front nine and 35 on the back. A 17-foot 18th hole putt for his fifth birdie saved him.

Knudson bogeyed the 3-par 14th after missing the green. He also had putting trouble as he faltered to the 38 on the back nine after 31 going out.

One stroke off the pace, at 137, were six pros—Fred Wampler, St. Louis; Jon Gustin, Gladwyne, Pa.; Dave Ragan, Sun City, Fla.; Bill Enzinicki, Falmouth, Mass.; Dan Sikes, Jacksonville, Fla.; and Dave Marr, Sun City, Ariz.

Defending champion Gay Brewer Jr., Crystal River, Fla., was in a group of seven coming in at 138. Chico Miartuz, the Argentine who was in a three-way first round tie for the lead at 65, faltered to a 74 and was bracketed at 139 with a clock of pros including such well known names as Julius Boros, D Massengale and Art Wall Jr.

Finley Denies Latest Rumor A's To Move

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A city councilman said Friday he had learned the Kansas City Athletics will move to Dallas, Tex., for the 1963 season. Charles O. Finley, the club owner categorically denied the report.

Councilman Charles C. Shafer told the City Council the report came from a source which he did not identify but said it "was beyond the rumor stage."

Finley just as emphatically said "that is news to me. So far as I know, I will be in Kansas City in 1963."

In a telephone interview from Chicago with The Associated Press he added:

"If this report is being circulated, some one has been reading my mail before I get it. I know there are all kinds of rumors going around and it would be necessary to build the biggest hotel in the world to hold them all."

Sal Capra, another councilman and chairman of the council's baseball committee, said he also had heard the reports and pointed out that Finley has only a one-year contract with the city for the use of Municipal Stadium.

Local Cagers All In Games Out Of Town

St. Matthews, West Monhoe, and Neville will all play out of town tonight in non - district cage games.

St. Matthews will journey to Alexandria to meet the Menard Eagles, while both West Monroe and Neville will take part in a triple - header in Calhoun.

First game on tap at Calhoun will match Neville's boys team against Quitman at 6:30. Following at 7:30, the West Monroe boys against Calhoun, will get underway at 8:30.

The Irish of Coach Benny Hollis are fresh from an impressive 53-52 upset over AAA West Monroe and will be trying for their third win of the season tonight.

Coach George Davis' troups will carry a 3-1 mark into their tilt tonight, and are fresh from a 72-56 victory over Pineville Thursday night.

Coach L. V. Norris' Rebels will be after their first win this week after the loss to St. Matthews last Tuesday.

Don Hutson's NFL Record To Be Broken

CLEVELAND (AP)— Whatever else happens Sunday in the National Football League's Eastern Division race, one thing seems almost certain: Someone is going to match or break Don Hutson's career league scoring record.

The Green Bay Packers' great end ran up a total of 823 points from 1935 to 1945, including a record 105 touchdowns. He also was the Packers' kicker.

Lou (The Toe) Groza of the Cleveland Browns, who has scored just one touchdown in his 11 NFL seasons, is one point shy of Hutson's record going into Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears.

And hot on Groza's heels is end Bobby Walston of Philadelphia, who has a total of 818 points—six behind Lou and seven short of Hutson's record.

Actually, Groza is in a class by himself since, in addition to his 824 points in the NFL, he scored 259 points during four seasons in the old All-America Football Conference for a grand total of 1,083.

Groza, who will be 38 next month, is the only remaining member of the original Browns squad that dominated the AAC for four years before joining the NFL. Until last year, when he "retired," Groza was a standout at offensive tackle as well as handling the kicking chores.

Coming out of retirement for kicking duty primarily, Groza has chalked up 82 points so far this season, putting him in a tie for fifth place in the league.

Walston, the Eagles' 33-year-old pass receiver and place kicker, also has 82, and another place kicker, Steve Myhra of Baltimore, is in the same group. Walston is in his 11th year with the Eagles.

The Eagles and the New York Giants, tied for the lead in the Eastern Division, meet at Philadelphia Sunday. Cleveland is in third place, one game behind the leaders.

Festive Dinner Climaxes Courtesies For Couple

Climaxing the prenuptial courtesies to Miss Wista-Lou Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Anderson, and Douglas Jerry White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. White, was the rehearsal dinner at the Frances Hotel on Thursday evening, December 7th. The couple was united in marriage at Fellowship Baptist Church in Monroe last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were hosts for the dinner which followed the church rehearsal.

The table was centered with a Christmas arrangement of white and red with ribbon streamers running to the attendants' places.

For the occasion Miss Anderson wore a red velveteen sheath with long sleeves tapered to a point at the wrists, and featuring a round neck and shirred bodice. Her corsage was in Christmas silver and white.

The couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants and to each other.

Those sharing the occasion with Miss Anderson and Mr. White were Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Littleton, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Bennett Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott LeBrun, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Oma C. McGuffee, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Travis, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Travis Sr., Miss Sharon Kaye Boyd, Miss Linda Kay Kitchens, Miss Dahnell McGuffee, Jimmy McGuffee, Roy Martin Anderson, Billy Ray Burford, Johnnie Hill, Kenneth McGuffee, Kenneth Anderson, Carl Jay Travis, Jo Ann Franks, Roy Lee Travis and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Franks of Nederland, Texas.

Patio Garden Club Meets In Mrs. Mabray's Home

The new home of Mrs. Jack Mabray on Oak Drive was the scene of the Christmas meeting of the Patio Garden Club on Wednesday morning of this week. Serving as co-hostesses with Mrs. Mabray were Mrs. Jack Davis and Mrs. Stanley Bagwell.

In the foyer, a life-size Santa dressed in red velvet and white fur put the club members in the Christmas mood as they arrived. Throughout the house, a holiday theme was apparent. After a "tour" of the Mabray home, members and guests were invited to the dining room where coffee and canapes were served tea style. Mrs. Fred Huenefeld presided over the silver service as the hostesses assisted in serving the guests.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Huenefeld, in the den, after which the program was turned over to Mrs. Roy Cole, Jr., Program Chairman. Mrs. Cole introduced the morning's guest speakers, Mrs. Robert Oliver and Mrs. H. D. Touchstone, whose subject was "Christmas Swags and Decorations." Mrs. Oliver and Mrs. Touchstone displayed numerous Christmas wreaths, swags, plaques and miscellaneous decorations, explaining how each was done.

Members present for this meeting included Mrs. Mabray, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Bagwell, Mrs. Huenefeld, Mrs. Tim Allen, Mrs. Charles Amman, Mrs. Harry Bell, Mrs. Rudy Cannon, Mrs. Robert Carter, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Joe Dixon, Mrs. Tommy Holmes, Mrs. William Inabnet, Mrs. Jack Tom Jackson, Mrs. John Kelso, Mrs. R. Madden, Jr., Mrs. Hillman Madison, Jr., Mrs. George Mouk, Mrs. John Pierpont, Mrs. Thad Ryan, Mrs. Hilary Sanders, Mrs. Lavelle Salley, Mrs. Fred Sartor, Mrs. Benton Wakefield and Mrs. Jim Williams.

Sorority Christmas Basket Set

Members of Beta Pi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi brought article of foods for a Christmas basket when they met Thursday night at St. Paul's Methodist church. Delivery of the basket to a deserving family will be in charge of Mrs. Alvis Gossett, service chairman.

During the business session Mrs. Bob DeMoss, social chairman, gave a report on plans for the Christmas party to be held Saturday, December 16. The event, a dinner and gift exchange will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schempf, 304 Medorah in West Monroe, for members and their husbands.

Volunteer workers at the Carolyn Rose Strauss Rehabilitation Center for Thursday were Mrs. DeMoss and Mrs. Joe Lister and for December 21 they are to be Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Roger Somsen.

Miss Gyl Rowell presented the program for the evening on the topic, "How Is Your Conversation?" a social hour followed the program with a dessert course in a seasonal theme served by the hostesses, Mrs. Steve Savanna and Mrs. Norman H. Smith. The lace-covered serving table was adorned with a pink Christmas wreath in the center of which stood a large white candle.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Nelwyn Reeves.

Members present included Mrs. DeMoss, Mrs. Jim Files, Mrs. Gossett, Mrs. Myrtle Groves, Mrs. V. A. Hubka, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. Laster, Mrs. Reeves, Miss Rowell, Mrs. Savanna, Mrs. Schempf, Mrs. Smith and the sponsor, Mrs. A. B. Johnson.

NEW BLOUSES

California designers go to great length on the blouse front. The newest blouses include the torso tickler—and the tall tails. The elongated toppings reach to hip and thigh level.

LITTLE HOLIDAY darlings, brightly hand-embroidered, beautifully deep-pleated, in a lustrous American Bember and cotton fabric—as practical for tots and toddlers as it is good-looking, since hand washing keeps it merry and bright for many a holiday. The little A-shaped toddler dress is pleated all around from the yoke. The crop-top overblouse on the right eliminates waistline problems with loose, boxy fit over an elasticized deep-pleated skirt.

HEAR THIS

NEW YORK (UPI) — A husband wife research team told the Fourth International Congress of Allergology that hearing loss can be caused by an allergy.

Loss of hearing can result from an allergic condition the nose, the nasal pharynx or the eustachian tube, Dr. V. L. Szanton and his wife, Willette, a speech therapist, said. Their report was based on a study of 100 allergy patients in Derby, Conn.

Delta Kappa Gamma Has Party Honoring Teachers

The retired teachers of East Carroll, Madison and Richland parishes were guests of honor at a meeting of Lambda Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma in Tallulah on Sunday afternoon. The event took place at the book club building which was decorated with foilage plants, red berries and a variety of chrysanthemums. Hosts were the members from Madison.

dell of Delhi, welcomed the guests and presented Mrs. Frances Robinson, who introduced the retired teachers of Madison parish: Mrs. Myrtis Wyly, those from East Carroll and Mrs. Blanche Calhoun, those of Richland.

The program, "Exploring Trend in Science, Music, Drama, Art and Manufactured Products," was given by a panel from Richland composed of Mrs. Blanche Calhoun, Mrs. Delia Anderson and Mrs. Elaine Kirkland. Mrs. Bliss Roberts Jones led the assembly in the singing of Christmas carols.

Following the program refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of red roses in a brass bowl flanked by red tapers in brass candle sticks. Mrs. Pearl Floyd presided at the punch service.

Those in attendance were Mrs. Ethel Belser, Mrs. Pearl Marcom, Mrs. Margaret Newman, Mrs. Myrtis Wyly and Mrs. W. B. R. E. Gilbert.

R. Mitchell of East Carroll, Mrs. Delia Anderson, Mrs. Blanche Calhoun, Miss Martha Cooper, Mrs. Bliss Jones, Mrs. Gladys Jones, Mrs. Elaine Kirkland, Mrs. Christine McConnell, Mrs. Esther McConnell, Mrs. Melissa McKay, Mrs. Mable Nash, Mrs. L. B. Archibald, Mrs. Mac Hatch, Mrs. Jack Y. Abraugh, Mrs. Hugh Stodgill, Mrs. Bertha Rundell, Mrs. Mary Underwood, Mrs. Elizabeth Whatley, Mrs. Nola Wilson, Mrs. H. P. Warden of Richland, Mrs. Josie Clawson, Mrs. Pearl Floyd, Mrs. Marie Hester, Mrs. Mamie Ivy, Mrs. Elizabeth Pierce, Mrs. Ruth Reed, Mrs. Frances Robinson, Mrs. Irene Sidon, Mrs. Frances Wyly, Mrs. Mary Andrews, Mrs. Eddie Montgomery, Mrs. Martha McDonald, Mrs. W. H. Erickson, Mrs. C. B. Claughton, Mr. J. H. Hamilton, Mrs. T. L. Hughston and Mrs. R. E. Gilbert.

THE THREE KINGS who grace this table, which is set for Christmas Eve, are actually long burning candles. Votive lights in glass holders are concealed in the hats of these whimsical figures whose brilliant felt robes are sprinkled with holiday glitter. The daring use of color however, is the real secret of this distinguished setting. White dinnerware with a border that suggests beautifully wrought gold, sets the opulent mood. The place mats are a subdued version of the same burnished gold, but the linen napkins are a vivid blue that exactly matches the coat of one of the wisemen. The garland of artificial fruit down the center of the table picks up the brilliant pinks and fuchsias of the other wisemen's coats and adds bright green, yellow and a bit of orange to the scene. An added note is the sparkling flat Christmas decoration in the center of each bread and butter plate which gives each guest a little memento of an especially happy evening.

LaVingt Club Has Xmas Musicale, Plans Party

The annual musical program, presented in the home of Mrs. William Wilkerson, an accomplished organist, and presented each year to members of the LaVingt Club, took place on Wednesday, with Mrs. E. W. Cruse as co-hostess.

Members and guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Cruse and seated in the living room, adorned with Christmas arrangements. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Kanpp conducted a short business session at which time a report was made by the committee on helping a needy family at Christmas and discussion on the approaching Christmas party for members and husbands took place.

Programs enclosed in Christmas cards were given each person present, and the program presented, with Mrs. Wilkerson, Mrs. Cruse, Mrs. Nelwyn Hollyfield, Mrs. Cecil Hill, Mrs. Edward Crowley, participating.

Following the program guests were invited into the living room, where Mrs. Blaine Brown presided over the coffee service. A large Christmas candle, surrounded by ceramic cherub and red camellias, was placed at one end of the table, which held trays of assorted hors d'oeuvres. The buffet held twin arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladioli, centered with a bowl of silver baubles.

Guests attending were Mrs. Van Odom, Mrs. George Hemphill, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. Thomas Pitt, Mrs. J. S. Harbuck, Mrs. O. R. Lewis, Mrs. Leon Noland, Jr., Mrs. N. W. Hickman, and Mrs. Ralph Wright of Dallas, Texas. Members present were Mrs. E. C. Brimberry, Mrs. S. E. Burgoyne, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, Mrs. D. E. Bivins, Mrs. E. W. Crowley, Mrs. William Crow, Mrs. Walter Knapp, Mrs. A. Petrus, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. L. D. Ritter, Mrs. Leon Sutton, Mrs. W. O. Webb, Mrs. V. H. Reitzell, Mrs. Cecil Hill, and Mrs. T. G. Zentner.

Treat Guests To Elegant X'Mas Tidbits

NEW YORK (UPI) — Treat holiday guests to an elegant hors d'oeuvre—artichokes with cheese dip.

Wash 4 artichokes. Trim stems to 1 inch, pull off tough outer leaves and cut off tips of remaining leaves with scissors. Place in 1 inch boiling water to which has been added 1½ teaspoons of lemon juice for each artichoke. Sprinkle each with ¼ teaspoon of salt. Cover tightly. Cook 20 to 45 minutes, or until stems can be pierced easily with fork. Time depends on size of artichoke. Drain immediately by turning artcihokes upside down. Chill.

Make dip by combining 1 (8 ounce) package of cream cheese, softened, with 2 teaspoons of lemon juice, 1 tablespoon each of prepared horseradish and dehydrated parsley flakes and 2 tablespoons of grated parmesan cheese. Beat until smooth. Serves 4.

BIKINI WITH LEGS

The most nautical version of the sailor suit for females is a bikini with trouser legs. The beach costume bares a provocative length of midriff, barely hanging on the hips. If it didn't eaten on at the hips, the wearer would need suspenders. The trousers are that low slung.

Band Concert On December 21 Set In Ferriday

FERRIDAY (Special) — The Ferriday High School Concert Band will present its annual Christmas Concert on Thursday night, Dec. 21 at 7 p.m. in the Ferriday Junior High School auditorium.

The concert is in the light nature, musically speaking, and will feature traditional Christmas music along with some new musical scores.

Added to this year's concert is the newly organized junior high chorus. This group is 65 voices strong and will entertain with traditional Christmas carols. Also featured on the program will be Miss Cecilia Scruggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scruggs Jr. Cecilia is a beginning student having started her musical training in September of this year. She will play "The Blue Bird's Waltz," by Fred Weber.

Mrs. Shirley Espinosa, vocal soloist, who will close the program with the very lovely "Lord's Prayer."

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: What do you think of a husband who is so stingy that he will not let his wife have a medical checkup even though she says she doesn't feel well?

This man has a steady income of $500 a month and he owns stocks and bonds which could keep him going for a long time. Whenever I mention going to a doctor he says: "All doctors are crooks. They are interested only in money. If you go to a doctor you will surely get sold an operation."

I repeat: What do you think of a man like this? — AILING

Dear Ailing: Never mind what I think about "him"—here's what I think of you. A woman who would listen to such foolishness is an unvarnished dumbbell. Go to a doctor and hand your husband the bill.

---

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 19 years of age and have been engaged to this young man for almost four months.

His car is rather old and he's been having trouble with the brakes. On Thursday he phoned to say if he got his brakes fixed in time he'd be over to take me out. He also said if he didn't get the brakes fixed he'd call and let me know.

I didn't hear from him so I got dressed about 6:30. I waited all evening and he didn't call and he didn't show up. The next day he acted like nothing happened.

What advice do you have for me? — STOOD UP

Dear Stood: This boy is having more than just brake trouble. He seems to have trouble with his tarter, too. If you are seriously considering marrying him I strongly recommend a long talk about an old-fashioned virtue called "reliability." A man whose word is no good will deal you a fit, Sister.

Dear Ann Landers: Three husky cheers for your answer to "Criticized" who spanked her daughter right then and there when she misbehaved in the department store.

I work in a small dress shop and I'm constantly plagued by mothers who allow their little darlings to run wild. If these mother only realized the anguish suffered by shop owners and clerks when customers' kids rub their sticky hands on good dresses, drag boxes out from under counters, play with the cash register and pull out stock drawers!

We have clipped your column and are posting it prominently in our store. It may suggest to a certain few that if their children are not well-behaved they should be left at home. — G. D.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 15-year-old fool who could kick herself. Please tell me how to clear up my reputation.

This boy I'll call Troy asked me for a date last Friday. He said he had just broken up with his girl after a year of going steady. I was thrilled because I've always wanted to go with Troy and could never figure out what he saw in that nut wit. She isn't even cute.

Troy swore he's been crazy about me for months but couldn't get out of the nut wit's clutches. So we parked and I let him kiss me a few times.

The next day at school he was back with his steady. He also passed the word that I was an easy mark and hot stuff. How can I let people know I'm really a nice girl? — MISS D.

Dear Miss: By being one. Your reputation is based on how you behave, not on what you say. Chalk this one up as part of your education and learn from it.

---

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for "Ann Landers'" booklet, "Before You Marry-Is It Love Or Sex?". enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your probelsm. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Christmas Visit To Hospital Set By Red Cross

The annual Christmas visit to patients in Veterans Hospital at Alexandria has been set for Sunday by the local Red Cross workers, announced chairman Louis Gruber.

"We need volunteer workers to go to the hospital to distribute gifts, and we need cookies for the patients also," Gruber said. "Any assistance will be appreciated."

Entertainment is planned for the ambulatory patients in the hospital auditorium as well as visits to patients confined to bed.

According to Gruber, each patient will receive a Christmas present, pecans and fruit, with the Red Cross serving as coordinater for the party.

Anyone interested in assisting is asked to contact Mrs. W. J. Veazey at the Red Cross office in Monroe.

Serving on the local committee with Gruber are Mrs. George Forman, W. E. Whetstone, J. D. Spaulding, H. H. Mullins and George Weaks.

NEW JEWELRY

The newest jewelry for mulady's neck is a gold plated metal bib reminiscent of traditional necklaces worn by members of long-necked African tribes. The bib is made of rings around the neck and extends from chin to chest. 4

HAIR TODAY, GONE TOMORROW

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bald spots in woman's hair probably are caused by brush rollers used in hair setting, Dr. Morris J. Lipnik, of Detroit, reported in the Archives of Dermatology, a medical journal.

He described 13 patients complaining of hair loss. Some used brush rollers for several months. Others used them for as long as two years. When use of rollers was stopped hair regrew in three in four months in 11 of the women. In two cases, scarring of the scalp prevented regrowth.

Winn Parish Timber Taxes Hit $14,820.94

WINNFIELD (Special) — Winn Parish has received $14,820.94 from the state timber severance tax in the third quarter of this year, Charlie Lewis, executive director of the Louisiana Forestry Association, reports.

This is 75 per cent of the total collection of the severence in Winn.

Twenty-five per cent goes to the state general fund.

Only six parishes failed to share in the tax.

These are Cameron, Iberia, Orleans, Plaquemine, St Bernard and St Martin where no timber was cut

The total collection given to the 58 police juries in the state for the quarter amounted to $1,453.43

Tariff Move Gets Rebuff Of Passman

Congressman Otto E. Passman is against President Kennedy's proposal for reciprocal tariff cuts on grounds that this would help government control business.

"I believe in a reciprocal trade agreement, but I am against the President destroying the tariff protection," Passman told the Monroe Optimist Club yesterday.

He warned that a lowering of tariffs would permit "cheap goods to roll into this country" while the government subsidized business participating in the world market.

"Eventually, the government would control everything," Passman said.

The Fifth District solon said he rea the President's remarks made to the AFL-CIO convention at Miami Beach, Fla. on Thursday concerning the tariff proposal.

"The President has no reason to lower the tariff law," he said. "That's been done only once before in our nation's history."

Explaining that America is living in an era of crisis', Passman said. "There is no emergency now."

Touching on a related subject, Passman said the United States has become the smallest exporter, percentagewise, in the entire industrial world.

"We have lost our world market," he explained. "You can't continue on that way."

Passman's talk, his third of the week to a Monroe civic club, was based on his criticism of federal spending, described by him as responsible for this country's trillion-dollar debt."

Readvertising Of Bids Slated

WINNSBORO (Special) — No bids were submitted for water well work for Highway District 58 at Chase at the appointed time in Baton Rouge, and bids will be readvertised.

Bids will be for three water wells complete with pipe, pumps, fittings and supply mains

DEAR ABBY

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When should a man tell his wife all about his financial affairs? Before marriage or after? I am going with a wonderful man (he's a widower and I am a widow) and he has asked me to marry him. He is good to me in every way, but he has one fault. He has tried to convince me that he has no money. It is not possible for a man to live the way he lives on what little money he claims he has. He told me he bought his car second-hand when I know he bought it new. He also tried to tell me that his suits are inexpensive ready-mades, when I "know" he has them tailor-made. I would not be extravagant if I married him, but I resent being deceived. What do you make of it? —RESENTFUL

DEAR RESENTFUL: If your friend thought as much of you as his bankroll, he wouldn't be trying to kid you. Don't expect him to improve after marriage. His type usually gets worse.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who has been going with this guy for the last year. She told me this morning that they planned to get married eventually but no date has been set yet. Then she said she hoped it would be soon because she thinks she is expecting. What kind of a wedding should she have under the circumstances? —SISTER

DEAR SISTER: A quick one!

DEAR ABBY: My boss has lost three secretaries in the past eight months because his wife insists on letting their 3-year-old child call him on the telephone all day long.

I wouldn't mind it once in a while, but the wife dials the number and, without asking for her husband, she hands the phone to the child and goes off somewhere. All I hear is "da da, da-dee, da-deeeee" until I am about to go crazy. How can a girl get her work done? And when there are people in the office waiting for the boss, it is a joke. If this keeps up Secretary Number Four will be looking for another job. —TELEPHONE NURSEMAID

DEAR NURSEMAID: Tell your boss that the calls from home are interfering with your secretarial routine and suggest he shape up his home front. If he doesn't do it, follow the three wise women.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self - addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

ARRIVES IN CEYLON

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UPI)—Soviet spaceman Maj. Yuri Gagarin arrived here Friday for an official visit to Ceylon. The influential Ceylon Daily News said his welcome would be muted because of Russia's recent explosion of a 50-megaton bomb.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS
United Press International

Sherman Branded 'Insane'

The Civil War wasn't going well for the Union in the early weeks of December 1861 and it was going still worse for William Tecumseh Sherman.

The Union had half a million or more men under arms but they weren't fighting the Confederates — they were wearing out blue uniforms, eating huge quantities of rations and burning powder on target ranges. All this was costing the government a million and a half dollars a day. Tax payers were beginning to react. They wanted some action for their money.

But those were minor problems for Sherman.

The bad news broke December 11 — "Old Cump Sherman was insane."

Sherman wasn't old — just a couple of months away from 41. And Sherman wasn't insane — eccentric, yes; too much of a realist, perhaps; jumpy and outspoken, certainly.

But that was the way the country heard it and the accusation would dog Sherman to the grave.

The news of Sherman's "insanity" came in one long paragraph in the Cincinnati Commercial. The first sentence read:

"The painful intelligence reaches us, in such form that we are not at liberty to disclose it, that Gen. W. T. Sherman, late commander of the Department of the Cumberland, is insane."

Those words nearly pushed William Tecumseh Sherman into oblivion — Sherman the general who would fight his way to Atlanta and capture it, who would break the back of the Confederacy in his "march to the sea," and who better than any other Civil War military leader understood what now is called "total war."

It was not surprising that Sherman's alleged insanity broke into the public print. The story had been kicking around Kentucky for several months.

Sherman arrived on the Kentucky scene soon after the battle of Bull Run (Manassas) where, as a colonel, he had helped to form the rear guard to protect the fleeting Federal army. His job in Kentucky was to organize a Union force to invade Tennesse.

He was dissatisfied with his troops. They were untrained and half equipped. Powder was scarce and some of it unexplodable. Like so many Civil War generals, Sherman was prone to over-estimate the strength of the enemy and under-estimate his own.

Soon Sherman and the newspaper correspondents were fighting. He objected to correspondent writing material which the Confederates might use. The correspondents, citing the American doctrine of free speech, demanded news. When they failed to get news they began to write their own opinions of Sherman, the army and how he was running it.

Sherman put a Cincinnati Commercial reporter in jail for refusing to leave department headquarters at Louisville when ordered. Others were banished.

The general's fued was climaxed on October 17 when Secretary of War Simon Cameron arrived in Louisville.

That night Sherman poured out his troubles to Cameron and the secretary's party, which included several newspapermen. Sherman objected to their presence but Cameron assured him they were "all friends."

Sherman spoke freely — too freely, it developed. He told Cameron that Confederate Gen. Simon Buckner, then at Bowling Green, Ky., could take Louisville in a day, that Kentucky recruits were going South in droves, that Kentucky Union men would not fight against their relatives and much more.

For defense, Sherman said he must have 60,000 men — he had about 20,000. "For offense, before your are done, 200,000."

"You astonish me," Cameron said. "Where are they to come from?"

Whether Sherman meant 200,000 men to conquer Kentucky, or whether he meant he felt that many were necessary to clear the Mississippi Valley, still is disputed. If he meant the latter his estimate was low. It took many more than 200,000 to win the war in the West.

Whatever Sherman meant, the figure got into the newspapers. That, plus the other bitter stories correspondents had written, insured eventual publication of the insanity dispatch.

But by that time Sherman was in Missouri inspecting and drilling recruits for Maj. Gen. Henry W. Halleck.

The transfer had not helped Sherman. He still was nervous, irritable and fearful of Confederate attacks. His wife, Ellen Ewing Sherman, went to St. Louis to take him home to Lancaster, Ohio, for a rest.

Halleck seemed glad to give him a 20-day leave, saying the rest would cure him. But the next day Halleck wrote to Maj. Gen. George B. McClellan, commander-in-chief, that Sherman was "completely stampeded" in Missouri and that his "physical and mental system is ... completely broken."

In Lancaster, Sherman read the Commercial dispatch all the way through.

"It appears that he was ... [illegible] ... mad." He telegraphed the War Department three times in one day for permission to evacuate Louisville. ... It seems providential that the country has not to mourn the loss of an army through the loss of mind of a general into whose hands was committed the ... command of Kentucky."

Those were some of the key sentences.

That day Sherman and his brother-in-law, Philemon Ewing, drafted a long and categorical denial.

Ewing went to Cincinnati and demanded a retraction from Editor Murat Halstead.

Halstead explained that he got the story from Henry Villard, correspondent of the New York Herald, and that he had published it because no correspondent in Louisville dared to do it. But he finally agreed to publish the answer Ewing brought. It appeared December 13, two days after the original dispatch, and branded "every material paragraph false" of the earlier dispatch. (The original was only one paragraph long.)

But the correction came too late. Other newspapers had printed it. Readers all over the country read and believed that "Old Cump was insane."

Of 2,128,948 soldiers who served in Union armies during the Civil War, only 47,347 were draftees.

---

All powder used in the Civil War was black powder which made clouds of smoke obscuring aim and fouling guns quickly. Smokeless powder did not come into use until about 1890.

---

Early in the Civil War rifle muskets cost the Federal government on an average of $20 each. Later, with mass production, the price came down to $16, complete with bayonet.

---

Of about 1 million men who served in the Confederate Army during the Civil War, 174,223 surrendered in 1865.

Panada was a hot gruel invented during the Civil War by Eliza Harris of the Sanitary Commission. It consisted of corn meal, hardtack mashed in boiling water, ginger and wine. It also was called "bully soup."

First Baptist Church Tells Yule Story

The story of Christmas has been told many times and probably has been told in many ways. "Rarely, however, has it been related on the side of a building, even a church building," says Minister of Education Charles Wood of the First Baptist Church in Monroe.

But this is just what the church will do, starting Monday night.

A 24 - foot by 18 - foot screen already has been erected for the purpose on the south wall of the education building overlooking the church parking lot.

"The Story of Jesus," an hour - long color slide production, complete with narration and recorded background music, will be shown each night until Christmas. Three performances are slated each night, running from 6 until 9 p.m., and the public will be invited to drive onto the parking lot to view them in drive - in theatre fashion.

The lot accommodates 66 automobiles.

"It will be the first time that I know of that the true story of Christmas has been told in this manner here," commented Wood. "And it needs to be told."

He described the presentation as consisting of a total of 109 slides, shown in four 12 - minute segments. The divisions in "The Story of Jesus" were given as follows: "The Enunciation," "The Nativity," "The Presentation of Jesus at the Temple", and "The Story of the Wise Men."

The narration is said to follow Biblical texts closely. Musical arrangements on Christmas themes will fill the background throughout. Projection and sound equipment is housed in a small truck.

U.N. Will Get British Bombs For Congo Use

LONDON (UPI)—Britain announced Friday it would supply bombs to the United Nations air force in the Congo but only for use against certain "pirate aircraft and airstrips from which they are operating."

Britain officially is opposed to a political settlement by force in the Congo and Friday's announcement angered government circles opposing U.N. actions in Katanga Province.

Acting U.N. Secretary General Thant urgently requested the bombs for British-made Canberra medium jet bombers used by Indian U.N. fliers since they are fitted only to handle British bombs.

In New York, Thant said he was "quite pleased" with the announcement which calls for Britain to send twenty-four 1,000-pound bombs so the U.N. air force will have a reserve stockpile.

Six conservative members of Commons introduced a motion deploring the decision. They said it "may well provoke further violence on the part of the Katangese and more immediate and wholesale destruction of life and property."

The opposition labor party hailed the move. Harold Wilson, Labor spokesman on foreign affairs, called the decision "obviously a step in the right direction."

Electrical Center Is Scheduled At Ward 5 Hospital

West Monroe's Glenwood Hospital will be served by a new electrical distribution center completed Dec. 1, an official of the Louisiana Power and Light Company said yesterday. Power lines connecting the hospital with the facility are scheduled for completion by mid-December.

Explaining the set-up for power generation to Glenwood, District Manager F. C. McConnell pointed out that the station is equipped with two 1,000 KVA transformers, providing both a primary and an alternate source of electricity.

Two 13,800-volt feeders are involved, each connected to different transformers and different transmission lines, the manager explained. In event of failure of one feeder, McConnell said, the other feeder supplies power automatically.

The distribution center was constructed by a substation crew headed by Dewey Sisson. Engineer in charge was Ray McGruder.

Local Freshman Pharmacy Major In Talent Contest

A freshman pharmacy student at Northeast Louisiana State College leaves Saturday for Chicago, Ill., where he will represent the Louisiana Farm Bureau in a national talent contest being held prior to the annual convention of the Farm Bureau Federation in that city.

With singing as his talent, Ronald H. Stephens won the state title at the state Farm Bureau convention in Shreveport last July. His wife, the former Lila Marie Fite, will accompany her tenor husband on the piano in their try for a national victory.

Now residing at 706 Wood St. in West Monroe, Stephens serves as minister of music at Edgewood Baptist Church.

Both the Stephens attended Ouachita Parish High School. Ronald went on to enroll at Northeast while his wife accepted a post at a local bank.

He will be singing before an expected 8,000 to 10,000 delegates to the convention who will witness the contest at the Hotel Sherman. It will be his first exposure before a national audience.

Walker Infant Services Sunday

Dennis DeWayne Walker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walker, 5100 Blanks Ave., died Friday night in a local clinic, shortly after birth.

Funeral services will be in the Hixson Brothers Chapel at 2 p.m. Sunday. Interment will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Daniel L. Walker Jr., Donald Ray Walker and Dan Allen Walker, and four sisters, Linda Gale Walker, Vicki Lynn Walker, Donna Kay Walker and Debra Ann Walker, all of Monroe.

NAMED AMBASSADOR

LONDON (AP)—F. R. H. Murray, a deputy undersecretary in the Foreign Office, has been named Britain's new ambassador to Greece, succeeding Sir Roger Allen.

Your Baby And Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Dear Mrs. Eldred:

"I am 24 years old and the mother of three children, 5½, 2 and 7 months. My problem is in feeling toward my oldest child. I have thought of seeking professional help, but I'm too ashamed and afraid and we do not have the money.

"Since he was born, I have had an unexplainable, hostile feeling toward him. I don't know whether I love or hate him. I have never hugged or kissed him from desire, but only because I felt I should. I seem to be yelling at him from morning to night. I just can't seem to say a kind thing to him. It's almost as if I were trying to destroy him, although I don't want to. I lay awake at night and promise myself tomorrow will be different, but it never is.

Notices It

"When a day goes by that I do not nag him, he notices it. He usually says, 'I was a good boy today, wasn't I? You didn't holler at me once.' I hate myself for being the way I am, but I seem powerless to change. I seem to be getting worse.

"He is a good boy and everyone tells me how thoughtful he is. I feel sorry for him and worry about him. When older children mistreat him I hate it, but I'm myself yelling at him, not them. I don't like his father to criticize him as I feel I do enough of that for everyone.

"I know I'm hurting him. He's very affectionate with all of us, but I cannot seem to respond. My mother tells me I even speak in a different tone of voice to him. My husband says I expect too much from him.

"What is wrong with me? Am I mentally sick? If I go to a clinic, will they take my son away from me? Please answer my letter soon."

Mrs. Eldred Says

I wish I felt I could give you the help you need through the column. But I hope I can encourage you to seek the professional care you realize is necessary.

Go to the Family Social Service Association in your community. Through them you will be able to get, or be directed to, psychiatric counsel at a figure you can afford to pay. They will respect your concern for your son and your intelligent appraisal of your behavior. You need not be embarrassed or feel that they will take the child from you.

It is possible your feelings spring from experiences in your childhood, or this child's resemblance to some disliked figure in your past or present. Whatever the cause, you owe it to yourself, your boy and your family to get help before permanent damage has been done to all.

This letter could have been answered sooner had you enclosed a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Processing letters through the column takes much longer than a personal reply.

If you would like the leaflet "How To Be Good Parents" send tamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 86 to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

11 Minor Auto Wrecks Occur On Slick Streets

Rain-slick Twin City streets were blamed Friday night by police as instrumental in a total of 11 minor automobile accidents, none of which resulted in injury to occupants of the cars.

Nine minor crashes involving only slight property damage were reported by Monroe officers between 2 and 10 p.m. Two collisions, one of them involving three vehicles, were reported in West Monroe during the same period.

A Bossier City man, 36 year old Jerry C. Traynhan, of 1807 E. Texas, was booked by West Monroe police in connection with the three - car crash on Cypress Street. A case of hit and run in which a parked automobile sustained moderate damage was under investigation last night.

Records at Troop F headquarters of the Louisiana state police showed only one minor wreck on area highways, with no injuries and only slight property damage resulting. It occurred on the Millhaven Road.

Officers hailed the absence of serious mishaps as a tribute to local motorists, in view of inclement weather prevailing during the evening hours.

Runaway Sought By Local Police

A runaway boy is being sought by the Monroe police department officials said Friday night.

Travis E. Teekall, 16, 5 ft., 8 in. tall, weighing 160 pounds, was reported to police to have run away, by his father, S. G. Teekall, 1401 S. 1st St., in Monroe. The blue - eyed, brown - haired youth left home carrying two new suitcases and riding a bicycle.

Anyone with information concerning the youth is asked to contact the Monroe police.

GARBO SETTLING DOWN

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Greta Garbo is going to settle down in Stockholm, says the newspaper Aftonbladet. The film star of the 30s, who has been living in New York, already has rented a flat here, the paper said.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 80 cents a bale lower to 45 cents higher Friday.

The market was lower in early dealings, rallied mildly following a lower government cotton crop report, but again sagged toward the close on liquidation.

There were 14 December delivery notices issued at New York which were reported by midday. However, nearby December futures closed weak as bids were lowered.

The Department of Agriculture estimated the 1961 cotton crop at 14,304,000 bales, off 234,000 bales from its month earlier forecast. Traders had generally looked for a lower report. The estimate Friday about matches the tentative predictions of Washington cotton officials for U. S. home consumption plus cotton exports for the current season.

Voice Of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Dinah Shore's friends assume it will take a long time and quite a lot of legal brainwork to effect a financial settlement before her divorce from George Montgomery reaches the courtroom stage . . . Joan Fontaine's performance in "Tender Is the Night" has aroused interest among the Broadway producers, several of whom would like to star her in a play next season . . . She has one very tempting offer . . . Rita Moreno and George Chakiris, who are so good in the Hickey version of "West Side Story," are seen together so often — offscreen — that the romance watchers are beginning to rate them as a serious twosome.

Miami cafe owners, so recently singing the blues, have begun to dream. Cubans who escaped with a lot of loot have started to spend it in large quantities, usually with the assistance of beautiful girls . . . The January session of Congress will feature the presentation of a tax reform bill with great advantages for "senior citizens" . . . Vice President Lyndon Johnson, accompanied by two Secret Service men, breakfasted at the Brasserie the other morning. The hour was 4:30 a.m. and the Veep put away an omelette gruyere and two glasses of milk. He asked the waiter to bring the milk "as ice cold as you can make it, please." (Lyndon, honey, you gonna get a tummy ache that way.)

It's out! Paul Semon's record of "Bull Dog Tail Blue" on the Drake label . . . and a prediction, it's the very end . . . Dean Martin wants to create a new "image" in the public mind . . . his era of created images. The new Dean would deemphasize booze, which in the past has been an unfailing source of gags by Dean and other night club comedians. The Cansinos are becoming very active again in Panama, pushing a program via program designed to destroy U. S. control of the Canal . . . Pablo Picasso's daughter, the 19-year-old Paloma, will have her first one man show of abstract paintings in Paris soon, and Heaven help her with the job of making a name for herself under the burden of her father's fame . . . Laurence Olivier is being talked of for the London duplication of "Gideon," playing the role created here by Fredric March. But there's also a chance that he might play his trick of switching parts, and eventually essay the title role, done here by Douglas Campbell . . . Publisher Mike Naras has offered to print Lee Hunter's memoirs.

One of the big hits of the Paris season is a play titled "Les Chenes." Translation — I think (is "The Jerks" . . . Bill Black, star of the Roundtable's current show, has written a song that Keely Smith will record. It's called "The Tarantella Twist." (What'd you expect, a gavotte?) . . . Jackie Wilson goes abroad in mid-January for his first European tour. He's booked for two weeks in London, 10 days in Rome and a week in Stockholm. His total take for the tour will be $42,000. (And isn't Jackie keeping a trade secret from us?)

One of the most famous of the night club performers has a way of giving his transient loves expensive - looking wrist watches as tokens of his affections. But when they have the presents appraised by jewelers, they rediscover the timepieces are worth just $17.50 . . . Jack Cassidy hopes to play the role of the American in "Take the Town," the Broadway play based on the life of Pancho Villa. Meanwhile, he and his pretty wife, Shirley Jones, are happily awaiting a new baby, due late this month . . . Although Rhonda Fleming and Lang Jeffries have signed the property settlement, they don't see eye - to - eye on the locale of the divorce. She'd like a quickie in Mexico but he's holding out for the year - long kind you get in California.

It was reported — elsewhere — that Elia Kazan was miffed at Warren Beatty. That's a screench. If anyone ought to be miffed it's Warren, who got second - rate treatment in "Splendor in the Grass," which Kazan directed. The camera lingered on Natalie Wood, sometimes when she was just standing there in a picture hat, doing nothing, but everytime Warren got a closeup, it was cut as if Somebody Up There Hated Him . . . Those who've watched the rehearsals of "A Family Affair" say Bibi Osterwald has a surefire show - stopper in a song called "Harmony". Oddity about that show: Larry Kert, who was so splendid as the leading man in "West Side Story" is billed under Shelley Berman and Eileen Heckart.

The Portofino Restaurant in Greenwich Village is turning its back room into an off-Broadway theatre on Monday nights . . . at $10 per person. "Do you get any lasagna with the acting?" . . . Betty Comden and Adolph Green have turned the runaway bride Carol Lawrence of "Subways Are For Sleeping" into a fashion magazine reporter with no prospective husband. P. Cinnamates the song "Getting Married," but Julie Styne hopes the catchy tune can be potted somewhere else.
